SCHOOL HEAD ACCUSED BY GIRL TO QUIT

San Jose Superintendent Denies That He Assaulted Miss Heuer, But Admits His Career As Educator Closed

Hearing On Alameda's Tutor's Charge Promised by Board Head With Dismissal Should Story Be Verified in Part

SAN JOSE, May 7.—"My usefulness is over. No matter what the board finds I am through."

With this statement, Alexander Sherriffs, accused superintendent of San Jose schools, today announced that whatever the findings of the Board of Education's pending investigation into the affidavit of Miss Margaret Heuer, Alameda school teacher, charging him with assaulting her, he will resign and go away.

Sherriffs still asserts that he is not guilty of the sensational accusation contained in Miss Heuer's affidavit made public yesterday. He charges that the affidavit is a frame-up on the part of his political enemies.

Miss Heuer, at her bed in the Columbia Hospital, where she is suffering from her attempt two weeks ago at suicide, today said she was ready to face members of the school board at any time and tell her story. She defied Sherriffs to face her and make his denials.

She today reaffirmed the truth of her affidavit and declared that she will fight to the end to prove her words and the dishonor of the man she says betrayed her.

SHERRIFFS SAYS GIRL INSANE WITH LOVE

Sherriffs, in denying Miss Heuer's charges, declared that they were the result of an insane mind. He declared that the girl had "gone mad" with an "infatuation" for him.

Dr. J. Samuel Staub, physician who saved Miss Heuer from what seemed inevitable death after she attempted suicide, adhered to his statements that his patient is absolutely sane. He declared that when the hearing comes he will stake his reputation on her sanity.

One of the most pointed statements made by any official in advance of the pending school board investigation was that today of Charles S. Allen, president of the Board of Education.

"It will not be necessary to prove that Sherriffs criminally assaulted Miss Heuer in order to find cause for his dismissal from the school service," Allen said. "The mere fact that the superintendent registered with her, if it is proven, or went with her to a room will be ground for dismissal."

HEARING MAY BE OPENED MONDAY.

Today the time of the hearing was unsettled. Should Sherriffs desire to face his accuser the hearing will be delayed because of Miss Heuer's condition as a result of her attempt to end her life. Otherwise it will proceed immediately and probably will be started on Monday.

Dr. Staub said today that Miss Heuer will positively lose the sight of her right eye, which was pierced by one of the two bullets she fired into her body while in a room at the Vendome hotel.

Miss Heuer's affidavit, about which the investigation will center, makes the charge that Sherriffs took her to a room in a Geary street hotel and, after struggling with her for two hours, finally overcame her. She further states that Sheriffs told her his married life was unhappy.

MRS. SHERRIFFS STANDS BY HER HUSBAND

All of these charges Sherriffs denies. Mrs. Sherriffs today stood by her husband and denied to dozens of personal friends shocked at the charges, that she and her husband were uncongenial.

"This whole thing is a political plot," Sherriffs says, "designed by its framers to get a new Board of Education and a new superintendent of schools, and to control the selection of teachers and whatever patronage there may be to distribute."

That the city council will interest itself in the case was indicated today. City Councilman D. M. Denegri, before whom Miss Heuer made her affidavit, said that unless the Board of Education went ahead with the investigation of the case, he would file the affidavit with the city council and ask that City Manager Clarence B. Goodwin be instructed to bring charges against the entire school board for dereliction of duty.

Action Expected During Coming Week, According to Wire to C. of C.

The Naval Appropriations bill now reported favorably out of the Senate Naval Base committee with appropriations to start work at Alameda and at the other proposed naval bases on the Pacific coast comes up in the Senate the latter part of next week.

The passage of the bill with a $7,000,000 appropriation for Pacific naval bases as it now stands before the Senate is regarded at Washington as practically certain, as the House Naval Affairs committee and the Senate Appropriations committee have already expressed themselves in favor of the extension of Pacific coast defenses. The stand of President Warren G. Harding in favor of stronger coast defenses and a larger navy is also expected to be a strong influence in favor of the passage of the bill.

DR. SUN MADE HEAD CANTON GOVERNMENT

Leader in the Rebellion That Caused Downfall of Manchu Regime Inaugurated; Enthusiastic Public Honor

First Move Will Be to Seek Recognition by the Foreign Nations; Peking Officials Greatly Worried At Success

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, May 7.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen has been inaugurated president of China at Canton in the presence of a vast multitude and amid enthusiastic scenes, said a despatch from Hongkong today.

(Dr. Sun Yat Sen was one of the chief leaders of the Chinese revolution which overturned the old Manchu imperial government ten years ago. After the revolution he served as the first provisional president of China. Since that time a hostile division has grown up between Northern and Southern China.)

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CANTON, China, May 3 (Delayed).—Sun Yat Sen, president of the Canton Chinese government, today outlined his proposed policies in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

"My first move after my inauguration on Thursday," he said, "will be to seek foreign recognition.

"As a legally constituted parliament, my administration hopes to show the powers I am not a rebel, but that Hsu Shin Chang, whose presidency is illegal, is the rebel.

"The second move will be the unification of China on a plan of local autonomy similar to that in force in America, giving far greater power to the communities.

"I will abolish military governorship, reduce to a minimum the army, which now is considerably over one million.

"I will start the building of railroads.

"I will restore China's position by denouncing Japan's twenty-one demands, which still are the backbone of her policy.

"China's trouble during the last four years has been directly due to the Japanese militarists, who aim to 'Koreaize' China.

"The province of Kwangsi now is mobilizing against Canton. They have about 50,000 troops. This being the only section now striking against me we hope to withstand the shock."

PEKIN, China, May 3.—Militarists making their headquarters here are alarmed at the success of Sun Yat Sen, president of the republican government at Canton, and are resorting to a campaign of villification.

There are indications of the possible establishment of two republics in China as an outgrowth of the present situation.

Fair Play Aim of Britain, Premier Claims in Speech

England Has No Desire to Put Down Her Former Foe, Says Lloyd George.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MAIDSTONE, England, May 7. — "Great Britain believes in fair play toward her fallen foe," declared Premier Lloyd George in a speech here this afternoon.

"If Germany disarms in accordance with the treaty of Versailles, she is entitled to insist that Poland adhere to the treaty.

"I am not confident but I am hopeful that Germany will accept the moderate (reparations) terms offered by the allies."

Reverting to the Irish situation, the premier said:

"I will not say a word about Ireland except that I am delighted that the leaders met, a thing I had always desired."

(The premier referred to the meeting between Eamonn de Valera and Sir James Craig, leaders of the opposing political factions.)

The premier touched on the industrial struggle in Great Britain, saying that one of the results of the national coal strike is that the United States is now a serious competitor in some of the coal markets where Britain was previously predominant.

"I am afraid the coal miners are trying to starve the nation," continued the premier. He appealed to the country "to endure with stubborn courage," declaring that surrender may irretrievably damage the industries of Great Britain.

Concessions to Be Made to Men in Recompense for Pay Reduction on Hitch Now Before Settlement Board

Seven Points of Difference Between Seamen's Unions and Employers Adjusted: Sympathy Action in Britain

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Settlement between the striking marine workers and the United States Shipping Board is nearer than generally believed, it developed today. Admiral Benson, for the Shipping Board, and the marine representatives have agreed on seven of eight points presented as a basis for settlement, it was learned. The one point over which the hitch in yesterday's conference came is the question of extra compensation to make up to the men a cut in wages.

Local leaders of striking marine engineers today were being canvassed by officials of the international union on the question of accepting the wage reduction.

SEAMEN'S UNION HEAD TO ATTEND.

Secretary Davis was given assurance by President William L. Brown of the engineers that the leaders' decision would be delivered to him Monday morning.

Andrew Furuseth, president of the striking International Seamen's Union, was to confer today with Director Hugh Kerwin of the Bureau of Mediation and Conciliation concerning the same proposals on which the engineers were taking their canvass. Kerwin was to receive Furuseth in the absence of Secretary Davis, who left Washington last night for Pittsburgh.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7.—Marine engineers have agreed to accept a 15 per cent wage reduction, according to a private wire from New York this morning to General Manager A. F. Haines of the Pacific Steamship Company's Admiral Line. Haines would not make public the text of his information.

McGowan Must Stand Trial or Brace His Case

Attorney Given Until Thursday to Produce Evidence to Support Charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7. — Unless Attorney George McGowan can unearth additional evidence before next Thursday, he will be held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of perjury in connection with his allegations against Theodore Bell, lawyer and Democratic politician. This was the decision of Police Judge Lazarus today.

"From the documentary and oral evidence in this case," said Judge Lazarus, "I am convinced that all of these statements as to terrorism, coercion and intimidation against Theodore Bell are entirely false."

Bell, in his complaint, accuses McGowan of having falsely charged him with using undue influence on his wife, Mrs. McGowan. The allegations grew out of a note signed by Mrs. McGowan in favor of Bell in connection with his services in the case of Baron George Wilhelm Von Bricken, who at that time was her son-in-law and who was confined at McNeil Island penitentiary, accused of a conspiracy against the neutrality of the United States at the beginning of the world war. McGown, in an answer filed following the efforts on the part of an assignee to collect on the note, accused Bell of obtaining the $5000 promise to pay y coercion, terrorism and intimidation. He is alleged to have made this direct charge and not "to have made it on information and belief."

It was for this reason that Judge Lazarus announced his intention to hold him to answer as the court declared no evidence supporting the direct accusation had been forthcoming.

Girl Writer Is Slain; Man Commits Suicide

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—Miss Paula R. Fisher, 35, a motion picture scenario writer, was shot and killed shortly before noon today after a 15-minute struggle with Marceleno Maestro, 37, a gardener, in a sun parlor on the fourth floor of a hotel here. Maestro then committed suicide.

Miss Fisher evidently was attacked while writing. In a typewriter in the room was a sheet of a scenario which she had titled, "I am going to build a cottage on the hand of God." According to police detectives who investigated, the motive for the tragedy was evidently Maestro's desire to kill the woman he loved after she had spurned his proposal of marriage.

60,000 Gather To See Famous Kentucky Derby

Scratches Reduce Entries to 12; Track Is Fast and Weather Warm.

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHURCHILL DOWNS, Louisville, Ky., May 7.—A burning sun streaming out of a clear sky tempered with a slight breeze furnished a perfect setting this afternoon for the running of the forty-seventh annual Kentucky Derby over the historic Churchill Downs course. The race at a mile and a quarter with $50,000 added money, is the richest prize for three-year-olds in the world.

When the horses were called to the post for the first race of the day the course was thronged with a crowd estimated at between 50,000 and 60,000, the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a similar event. The gates were opened at 9 o'clock and every seat at that time had been sold.

The paddock was jammed with thousands who scrambled for standing room.

The track was pronounced extremely fast and the derby record of 2:03 2-5 by Old Rosebud in 1914 was in danger of being shattered. The Derby was the fifth race on the program and the starters planned to call the horses to the post between 4:30 and 5 o'clock local summer time.

The entry of Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster and Trudery remained the last minute favorites with the public, although Star Voter, the entry of Commander J. K. L. Ross, the Canadian turfman, and Leonardo II also had many admirers. The field was reduced to a probable list of twelve starters when Firebrand, Grey Lag and Billy Barton were withdrawn.

He was offered the position several days ago and made his acceptance conditional upon his choice being unanimous, it became known today. At the office of Governor Stephens regret was expressed that Seavey was to leave the Board of Control. His resignation, however, has not yet been handed in to the governor. The resignation of Seavey will leave two vacancies on the Board of Control. H. Stanley Benedict having recently become a member of the State Railroad Commission, succeeding Frank K. Devlin.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—A new and independent investigation of the strange death of Miss Marie Vance of Chicago, from nicotine poisoning, was launched here today under the direction of J. M. O'Connell, Southern California agent of the State Board of Medical Examiners.

When poison killed her in a "love bungalow," reported to have been purchased for her by an eastern millionaire, Miss Vance was in a delicate condition. A death certificate, signed by Dr. Ryder, stated she died of diphtheria. An autopsy in Chicago, however, disclosed that the body contained enough nicotine poison to have killed several persons.

Error Fails to Free Man Accused As Spy

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The government's confession of error in the case of Henry Albers, accused of violation of the espionage act, does not automatically free Albers, Solicitor General Frierson said today.

The government action, recently taken before the Supreme Court in which Albers' case was appealed, only opens the way to a new trial, the solicitor insisted.

Frierson also said there was no intention to withdraw the confession of error.

GERMANS ARE UNWILLING TO JOIN CABINET

With But Four Days Left to Answer Allies' Ultimatum Ebert Is Unable to Find the Members for New Ministry

Decision of U. S. to Resume Participation in Councils of the League and Entente Is Pleasing News to Europe

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BERLIN, May 7. — President Ebert, the Vossische Zeitung says today, has asked Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, German ambassador to France, to form a new cabinet. Dr. Mayer asked that he be given time to consider the offer.

BERLIN, May 7.—Germany was still without a cabinet today with but four more days remaining in which she must accept or reject the allied indemnity ultimatum.

Herr Mayer-Kaufbeuren, German ambassador to France, who was summoned to Berlin by President Ebert, was expected to arrive today. It was reliably stated that both the chancellorship and the post of foreign minister would be offered to the ambassador.

Herr Mayer-Kaufbeuren is a member of the Centrist party. His friends said it would be impossible to tell whether or not he would attempt the formation of a new ministry until he had studied the political situation, especially the attitude of the coalition leaders upon the question of accepting the ultimatum.

In the event that a new cabinet is not organized by that date, it will fall upon Chancellor Fehrenbach and his associates, despite their resignations, to act for Germany in accepting the ultimatum. They are responsible for all governmental actions until their successors are inducted into office.

LONDON, May 7.—The news from Washington that the United States will re-enter the councils of the allies will participate actively in the future meetings of the supreme council, reparations commission and the council of ambassadors, was received with deep satisfaction in official circles today.

PARIS, May 7.—The newspapers expressed great satisfaction with Washington despatches announcing the United States had decided to resume her part in the supreme allied council, the council of ambassadors and the allied reparations committee.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The decision of President Harding to have a personal representative present at meetings of the allied supreme council as well as unofficial representatives of the United States on the conference of ambassadors and the reparations commission was being studied carefully in all quarters today.

It was emphasized in the highest administration circles, that the step did not mean the participation of the United States in any project "of world government or world league."

Col Harvey, Ambassador to London, will be the President's representative on the supreme council and although without power to bind the United States, will be in position to forward much information to Washington. To the supreme council have been referred for settlement many important questions, including the American protest to the League of Nations against the award to Japan of a mandate for the island of Yap. It is, in fact, expected to take up the whole subject of mandates.

Instructions to Ambassador Wallace at Paris and Roland W. Boyden to resume their posts as unofficial observers for the American government at the conference of ambassadors and the reparations commission, respectively, were prepared at the State Department.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—One of the first matters of major international importance which Colonel George Harvey, acting as the personal representative of the President of the United States, will bring to the attention of the inter-allied supreme council is the matter of universal or [illegible] disarmament.

This is the clear understanding prevailing here today among those in the Senate and House who have been consistently advocating that the administration initiate steps to call a general conference of the nations in Washington. With few exceptions, the authors of the half dozen resolutions on the subject now pending have agreed to defer further pressing for action until the American representatives at the council tables of Europe have sounded out sentiment over there.

Movies Instead Of School Books Urged by Edison

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 7. Substitution of motion pictures for books in the nation's elementary schools would in twenty years bring about an advancement of ten centuries in civilization, Thomas A. Edison said today.

The scientist declared present primary school systems were poor and uninteresting to children.

"The remedy," he said, "is to eliminate boresome books and teach with motion pictures. This is a more vivid, more compelling method of holding a child's attention."

Edison's criticism of primary schools was given to qualify a previous statement that after a series of examinations of college men, applicants for positions in his plant, he had found them amazingly ignorant. The fault, he said, was not in colleges, nor the men; their early education had been poor.

Premier Against Irish Settlement Outside Ireland

Reason He Gives for Opposing Sinn Fein-Ulster Peace Conference in London.

DUBLIN, May 7.—Announcement was made by the Sinn Fein this afternoon that Eamonn de Valera is in Ireland and that he will treat all peace overtures in Ireland instead of going to London.

By WILLIAM L. MALLABAR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 7. — English ecclesiastics of the Catholic faith are taking an important part in the new Irish peace movement. A meeting of prelates was held here this morning when it was proposed to send a delegation to Cardinal Bourne, suggesting that the cardinal formulate an invitation to Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," to come to London to canvass the whole peace issue.

"We will never cease to maintain that there is a community of interest between our countrymen in the northeastern corner of Ireland (Ulster province) and the people of Southern Ireland," said de Valera in a conciliatory article which he wrote for the Irish Independent.

DE VALERA SENDS "FEELER" TO ULSTER

This article was regarded in some circles as a peace feeler to the Unionists of Ulster, an opinion that was borne out by the conference between de Valera and Sir James Craig, leader of the Ulster Unionists, at Dublin.

The Ulster Unionists issued a manifesto suggesting that, after the election to the Northern Ireland and Southern Ireland parliaments, both legislatures be combined to form a constituent assembly to arrange a settlement for the whole country.

Sir James Craig, in a speech at Belfast Friday night, appealed for the support of the majority "so as to be able to speak constitutionally in behalf of Ulster province."

Count Fitzalan, viceroy of Ireland, held a long conference at the premier's official residence during the morning.

LLOYD GEORGE TAKES "HANDS OFF" STAND

Premier Lloyd George is understood to be opposed to a visit to England by de Valera at this time. Furthermore, the premier wants "England and English influence" kept out of the negotiations, believing that they would jeopardize a settlement. It is the premier's idea that to be lasting an agreement should be reached exclusively between the opposing political factions in Ireland.

The premier, it is declared, would welcome English assistance, but not unless de Valera and Sir James Craig both report to him that they are in agreement and accord. This would make it appear that the English ecclesiastics acted independently and without the sanction of the premier.

The Central News correspondent at Dublin understands that de Valera has not yet left Ireland.

DUBLIN, May 7.—A 16-year-old Irish boy was shot dead today at Broadford, in County Limerick, while attempting to escape a military search party.

ALLIES ORDER WAR AGAINST POLE REBELS

Urgent Request Is Sent High Commission in Silesia to Crush Uprising; Boundary Settlement Urged Quickly

Paris Aroused Over Report Germans Crossed Border and Arrested French Officer Making Tour of Inspection

PARIS, May 7.—(By the Associated Press).—The Allies have sent to the Allied High Commission in Upper Silesia an urgent request to act energetically in the suppression of the Polish uprising in that district, using the allied troops for the purpose. They also urge that the commission report as quickly as possible on the settlement of the boundaries between Poland and Germany in this area as a result of the recent plebiscite.

French circles appeared much concerned today over news received of the arrest by fifty Germans, who had crossed the frontier, of Captain Deblois of the French army, controller of the district of Ober-Glogau, who was on a tour of inspection.

BERLIN, May 7.—Armed Polish insurgents are now reported to control virtually all of Upper Silesia. The populations of Upper Silesian cities, which are under siege by the Poles, are said to be on the verge of starvation.

Unconfirmed reports were received from Cologne that the British were concentrating reserves and artillery.

Adelbert Korfanty, Polish commissioner in Upper Silesia, is organizing a civilian government. The minister of railways in the Korfanty cabinet threatens to inflict the death penalty upon any railroaders that strike.

BERLIN, May 7.—Polish rebels have invested Koenigshuette, Gleiwitz and Nicolai, three important towns in Upper Silesia, and inflicted more than 100 casualties upon the Italian troops, according to information from Beuthen today.

The Poles were said to be menacing the Oppeln district, the seat of the interallied control commission. The allied troops, estimated at more than 10,000 men, are short of arms but the Poles are well equipped and in the past few days have captured a large amount of artillery from the Italian troops.

The action of Adelbert Korfanty, the Polish commissioner, in declaring himself president of the free state of Upper Silesia, has caused much apprehension among the allies.

A sensation was caused here by an announcement by Herr Dominicus, Prussian minister of interior, in the Prussian landtag, that a French officer and French soldiers were captured while assisting Polish insurgents to dynamite the Oppeln-Brieg railway.

BERLIN, May 7.—Czecho-Slovakia was reported today to have added fuel to the international conflagration now raging in Upper Silesia.

A Vienna despatch stated that Czecho-Slovakian troops in great force had crossed the Upper Silesian frontier, making the fifth nation involved in the struggle.

The Polish insurgents, who kindled the spark by occupying territory awarded to Germany in the plebiscite, were variously reported to number from 30,000 to 100,000 under command of Commissioner Korfanty.

OPPELN, Silesia, May 7.—German requests that the frontier between Germany and Silesia be opened and that all political prisoners held by the allies in Upper Silesia be released, have been granted by the interallied commission here. Decision as to whether the use of German government troops would be permitted in Silesia and whether the Polish frontier would be closed was expected today.

Baker was charged with speeding with his automobile on December 10 and running down and killing Mrs. Gussie Moser at Grove street and Van Ness avenue. During his trial the preponderance of evidence as to his speeding and the fact that he was alleged to have been intoxicated, was so strong that he withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty, throwing himself upon the mercy of the court.

M'NAMARA WILL QUIT SAN QUENTIN PRISON TUESDAY

Convicted L. A. Bomber to Be Released After Ten-Year Penitentiary Term.

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, May 7.—On Tuesday, May 10, John McNamara, convicted of a felony in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times on October 1, 1910, will check out through the great doors of the San Quentin prison for the last time. On that day his sentence will be completed.

"The first thing I'll do when I get out of here will be to go to San Francisco, see my friends and make arrangements to go to Ohio to visit the various members of my family who live in Cleveland and Cincinnati," he stated in an exclusive interview with the United Press today.

"Then comes the problem of readjustment after being out of the world for ten years.

WAS UNION SECRETARY.

"At the time of my trial I was international secretary of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union. I am still a member of the union and in good standing.

"That I will continue with that work is quite probable, though that is necessarily dependent on what conditions are as I find them on my release.

"I have managed to keep more or less abreast of the times during my imprisonment, but I fear I won't know how to act when I step off the ferry in San Francisco.

"Though I have been out of the world for ten years, I think I'm still a man capable of taking care of myself."

There was a pause.

"And will you be glad to get out?" he was asked.

"That's what has been keeping me alive—thinking of the day when I would again become a free man—able to go my own way," the man in prison gray replied.

"One hears so much—and so little—of what is going on outside that, after an active life, a prison term is almost an intellectual death," he added.

"We hear so much now of wars and rumors of wars that it is almost appalling to think of facing the age-old conflict of man and his brother.

BROTHER DOING LIFE.

"With labor troubles paramount in this country, disputes tearing Europe, strife is the keynote of the world refrain."

Originally sentenced to a 15-year term, the board of prison directors have ordered McNamara released after serving ten years, part in San Quentin and a few months in the county jail in Los Angeles. Good behavior and strict compliance with all rules earned the respite.

Gray hair, blending with the gray prison uniform, was the chief mark years of imprisonment seemed to have left on McNamara. He was plainly in robust health, his manner alert and his face carried but few new lines.

His brother, James McNamara, was sentenced to life imprisonment for his connection with the same case. It is possible that he may be paroled at some future date.

S. F. Attorney Files Secret Divorce Suit

Two secret divorce suits were filed yesterday for Attorney A. D. vs. Amanda L. Schaffer and Roy vs. Maud Jackson. On just what grounds the San Francisco attorney is suing his wife could not be learned.

"Get out of here. If you come back something will happen to you."

With these words, Hector Gal is alleged to have driven his wife, Irma, and their 5-year-old son from his home on the night of March 28, 1921, according to the divorce affidavit sworn to in the superior court by the wife.

On October 23, 1919, Michael O'Hara deserted his wife Ethel in Salt Lake City, states a divorce complaint filed by the wife in the Alameda county superior court. She says her husband also threatened to choke her to death.

The following districts are now being organized and workers in each of these will soon commence their activities: Emeryville, Central Oakland No. 2, Northwest Oakland, Melrose, Fruitvale No. 2, San Leandro, Elmhurst, Allendale, Melrose and Piedmont.

ARMY FUND FOR HOME SWELLING

Dollars began rolling into the Salvation Army rescue and maternity home fund today.

Salvation Army lassies, augmented by a group of Eastbay society belles, canvassed the Key System ferry boats during the day.

Early this morning the girls began their work for the girl-mothers who come under the sheltering care of the Salvation Army.

Commuters were quick to respond. They poured silver and greenbacks into the hands of the fair appealants.

"It is a splendid preliminary to Ammunition Week, which starts Monday," said C. A. Farnsworth, campaign manager, at headquarters, 313 Henshaw building, today.

The Alameda county budget calls for $30,000. Of this amount $20,000 is to be used to complete the new Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home, now under construction at East Thirty-eighth street and Garden avenue. The remaining $10,000 is to meet other local needs of the army.

Rent Driver Loses Auto and Fare Here

F. W. Rucks, a chauffeur of Stockton, was hired last night by a stranger who wanted to get in Oakland in time to make the first boat this morning for San Francisco. The fare was fixed at $27.50, which the stranger agreed to.

At 4 o'clock this morning Rucks stopped at a restaurant at Ninety-eighth avenue and East Fourteenth street to have breakfast. He asked the stranger to come in with him, but he refused. Rucks was in the restaurant about ten minutes and when he went out his automobile and the stranger were missing. Besides losing his machine Rucks was not paid for the trip by the stranger.

The stranger is about 25 years old and six feet tall. According to Rucks, the missing man did not talk to him after they started on the trip, but he appeared nervous.

FRANCES REDMAN TO BECOME BRIDE OF L. V. ROBERTS

Announcement of Betrothal of Piedmont Society Girl Made Today.

Miss Frances Redman, of Piedmont, who distinguished herself during the war as the girl director of Red Cross and philanthropic drives, is engaged to be married to Lloyd Vincent Roberts, a young business man of Oakland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Taber Roberts, formerly of Oakland, but now residents of Los Angeles.

News of the betrothal will reach friends through today's mail, confirming a rumor that has been tea-table gossip for a month or more, although the friendship between the society girl and Roberts has been rather a recent affair.

Miss Redman is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Landers Redman, whose home on the brow of one of Piedmont's hills is one of the show places of the Eastbay. Her father is an attorney of San Francisco, an astronomer by avocation, and the author of several publications on astronomical and mathematical subjects. Mrs. Redman is one of the leading spirits in local philanthropies, notably the West Oakland Home.

BRIDE-ELECT HAD PLANNED EUROPE TOUR.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Miss Ransom's and last year made an extended tour of America and Canada with her mother. She was on the eve of a year's tour of Europe when she determined to substitute matrimony for the proffered trip.

Roberts spent his schooldays in Oakland, the family home having been the house on Vernon street that is now occupied by the Leslie Olivers. Several years were spent in the East in preparation for a business career. After the war he returned to Oakland.

Miss Redman, it will be recalled, was responsible for Oakland's winning the approbation of Washington in the drive for America's gift to France—the Marne monument fund. Single-handed and three days behind schedule, she organized the town, put out her workers, and not only put Oakland over the top in its quota, but went 30 per cent beyond it, putting her home-town at the head of cities of America in their tribute to the heroes of the battle of the Marne. For this service she received letters from New York and Washington, and the praise of William H. Crocker, who headed the movement in California.

TAKES LEADING PART IN CHARITY AFFAIRS.

And not only is she a leader among the younger set, but she is particularly gifted in dramatics, and no play or cabaret for charity has been put on in Oakland in three years but she has not had a leading part.

The wedding will take place in August, and will probably be a church service.

Miss Redman is a niece of Mrs. Chalmers Adams, writer and world explorer; Miss Jean Redman, the writer, and Mrs. Ozro Childs, one of the social leaders of Los Angeles.

What America Did and Failed to Do at Paris

by ROBERT LANSING FORMER SECRETARY of STATE

(Copyright, 1921, by Houghton Mifflin Company, as "The Peace Negotiations: a Personal Narrative." Published by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin Co.)

(Robert Lansing continues today his indictment of the secret diplomacy at Paris—a diplomacy so secret on the part of President Wilson that all of the American peace commissioners with the exception of Colonel House were compelled to rely on the representatives of other nations to know actually what was going on. The secrecy naturally caused much embarrassment. The mystery enveloping the proceedings of the "Big Four" caused the world to lose faith in the negotiations).

CHAPTER XXII

"Intrigue, Plotting, Bargaining, Combining"

From the time that the President arrived in Paris up to the time that the commission on the League of Nations made its report—that is, from December, 1918, to February 14, 1919—the negotiations regarding the league were conducted with great secrecy. Colonel House, the President's collaborator in drafting the covenant, if he was not, as many believed, the real author, was the only American with whom Mr. Wilson freely conferred and to whom he confided the progress that he was making in his interviews with the foreign statesmen, at many of which interviews the colonel was present.

It is true that the President held an occasional conference with all the American commissioners, but these conferences were casual and perfunctory in nature and were very evidently not for the purpose of obtaining the opinions and counsel of the commissioners. There was none of the frankness that should have existed between the Chief Executive and his chosen agents and advisers. The impression made was that he summoned the conferences to satisfy the amour propre of the commissioners rather than out of any personal wish to do so.

The consequence was that the American commissioners, other than Colonel House, were kept in almost complete ignorance of the preliminary negotiations and were left to gather such information as they were able from the delegates of other powers, who naturally assuming that the Americans possessed the full confidence of the President spoke with much freedom. As Mr. Wilson never held a conference with the American commission from the first meeting of the commission on the League of Nations until its report was printed, his American colleagues did not know, except indirectly, of the questions at issue or of the progress that was being made.

HOUSE'S OFFICE FORCE HAD MORE INFORMATION.

The fact is that, as the commission on the league met in Colonel House's office at the Hotel Crillon, his office force knew far more about the proceedings than did the three American commissioners who were not present. As the House organization made no effort to hide the fact that they had inside information, the representatives of the press as a consequence frequented the office of the colonel in search of the latest news concerning the commission on the League of Nations.

But, in addition to the embarrassment caused the American commissioners and the unenviable position in which they were placed by the secrecy with which the President surrounded his intercourse with the foreign statesmen and the proceedings of the commission on the League of Nations, his secret negotiations caused the majority of the delegates to the conference and the public at large to lose in a large measure their confidence in the actuality of his devotion to "open diplomacy," which he had so unconditionally proclaimed in the first of his fourteen points.

If the policy of secrecy had ceased with the discussions preliminary to the organization of the conference, or even with those preceding the meetings of the commission on the League of Nations, criticism and complaint would doubtless have ceased, but as the negotiations progressed the secrecy of the conferences of the leaders increased rather than decreased, culminating at last in the organization of the council of four, the most powerful and most secluisve of the councils which directed the proceedings at Paris. Behind closed doors these four individuals, who controlled the policies of the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, passed final judgment on the mass of articles which entered into the treaties of peace, but kept their decisions secret except from the committee which was drafting the articles

EXTRAORDINARY SECRECY EXCITED ASTONISHMENT.

The organization of the council of four and the mystery which enveloped its deliberations emphasized as nothing else could have done the secretiveness with which adjustments were being made and promises were being effected. It directed attention also to the fact that the four great powers had taken supreme control of settling the terms of peace, that they were primates among the assembled nations and that they intended to have their authority acknowledged. This extraordinary secrecy and arrogation of power by the council of four excited astonishment and complaint throughout the body of delegates to the conference, and caused widespread criticism in the press and among the people of many countries.

A week after the council of ten was divided into the council of the heads of states, the official title of the council of four and the council of foreign ministers, the official title of the council of five (popularly nicknamed "The Big Four" and "The Little Five"), I made the following note on the subject of secret negotiations:

"After the experience of the last three months (January-March, 1919) I am convinced that the method of personal interviews and private conclaves is a failure. It has given every opportunity for intrigue, plotting, bargaining and combining. The President, as I now see it, should have insisted on everything being brought before the plenary conference. He would then have had the confidence and support of all the smaller nations because they would have looked up to him as their champion and guide. They would have followed him.

RESULT GAINED WAS TO AROUSE RESENTMENT.

"The result of the present method has been to destroy their faith and arouse their resentment. They look upon the President as in favor of a world ruled by five great powers, an international despotism of the strong, in which the little nations are merely rubber stamps.

"The President has undoubtedly found himself in a most difficult position. He has put himself on a level with politicians experienced in intrigue, whom he will find a pretty difficult lot. He will sink in the estimation of the delegations who are not within the inner circle, and what will be still more disastrous will be the loss of confidence among the peoples of the nations represented here. A grievous blunder has been made."

The views, which I expressed in this note in regard to the unwisdom of the President's course, were not new at the time that I wrote them. Over two months before I had watched the practice of secret negotiations with apprehension as to what the effect would be upon the President's influence and standing with the delegates to the conference. I then believed that he was taking a dangerous course which he would in the end regret. So strong was this conviction that during a meeting, which the President held with the American commissioners on the evening of January 29, I told him bluntly—perhaps too bluntly from the point of view of policy—that I considered the secret interviews which he was holding with the European statesmen where no witnesses were present, were unwise; that he was far more successful in accomplishment and less liable to be misunderstood if he confined his negotiating to the council of ten, and that, furthermore, acting through the council, he would be much less subject to public criticism.

DECIDES HE BLUNDERED IN TALKING TO WILSON.

I supported these views with the statement that the general secrecy which was being practiced was making a very bad impression everywhere, and for that reason, if for no other, I was opposed to it. The silence with which the President received my remarks appeared to me significant of his attitude toward this advice, and his subsequent continuance of secret methods without change, unless it was to increase the secrecy, proved that our judgments were not in accord on the subject. The only result of my representations, it would seem, was to cause Mr. Wilson to realize that I was not in sympathy with his way of conducting the negotiations. In the circumstances I think now that it was a blunder on my part to have stated my views so frankly.

Two days after I wrote the note, which is quoted (April 2, 1919), I made another note more general in character, but in which appears the following:

"Everywhere there are developing bitterness and resentment against a secretiveness which is interpreted to mean failure. The patience of the people is worn threadbare. Their temper has grown ragged. They are sick of whispering diplomats

"Muttered confidences, secret intrigues and the tactics of the 'gumshoer' are discredited. The world wants none of them these days It despises and loathes them. What the world asks are honest declarations openly proclaimed. The statesman who seeks to gain his end by tortuous and underground ways is foolish or badly advised. The public man who is sly and secretive rather than frank and bold, whose methods are devious rather than obvious, pursues a dangerous path which leads neither to glory nor to success

"Secret diplomacy, the bane of the past, is a menace from which man believed himself to be rid. He who resurrects it invites condemnation. The whole world will rejoice when the day of the whisperer is over."

CLOUD OF MYSTERY WINS THEM NICKNAME.

This note, read at the present time, sounds extravagant in thought and intemperate in expression It was written under the influence of emotions which had been deeply stirred by the conditions then existing Time usually softens one's judgment and the passage of events makes less vivid one's impressions. The perspective, however, grows clearer and the proportions more accurate when the observer stands at a distance. While the language of the note might well be changed and made less florid, the thought needs little modification. The public criticism was widespread and outspoken, and from the expressions used it was very evident that there prevailed a general popular disapproval of the way the negotiations were being conducted.

The council of four won the press name of "The Olympians," and much was said of "the thick cloud of mystery" which hid them from the anxious multitudes and of the secrecy which veiled their deliberations. The newspapers and the correspondents at Paris openly complained and the delegates to the conference in a more guarded way showed their bitterness at the overlordship assumed by the leading statesmen of the great powers and the secretive methods which they employed. It was, as may be gathered from the note quoted, a distressing and depressing time.

On the same day that the foregoing record of my views on secret diplomacy was written the President took a course of action which indicated, I think, that he fully appreciated my disapproval of, and opposition to, the secretiveness of the principal negotiators and that he had not forgotten the criticism of the practice which I had made in January. Being indisposed and unable to attend the meeting of the council of four on April 4, Mr. Wilson asked Colonel House to act in his place on the council. When this was known, as it was through the press as well as by word of mouth, there was general surprise at the selection, as I was next in rank to the President on the American delegation and would, according to the customary practice in such cases, have been his substitute.

There was much unfavorable comment of this action and an effort on the part of the press hostile to the President to excite my anger by emphasizing the superior place and influence of Colonel House. Among my friends there was openly expressed indignation, as they viewed the President's choice of a substitute to be an intentional disregard of my official position and a personal affront which I ought not to ignore.

The natural impulse in the circumstances was to ask to be immediately relieved from my duties as a commissioner to negotiate peace and to be permitted to return to the United States, for I naturally felt keenly mortified at being treated in this manner, since it seemed to imply distrust of my loyalty or doubt of my ability. On mature deliberation, however, I was convinced that it was a duty to my country to avoid creating a situation which might seriously embarras the negotiations then approaching a critical state and thereby delay the peace through encouraging the hope among the Germans that there were serious dissensions among the Americans at Paris.

Furthermore, I was compelled to admit to myself that there was a measure of justification for the President's failure to select me to represent him on the council. He knew that I was critical of the methods employed by "The Four" in the conduct of their proceedings, which was the last word in secretiveness. He may have resented the attitude that I took in January; he possibly thought that, as I had been in the habit of speaking my mind in the council of ten during his absence in the United States, I might take the opportunity to express to the council of four my views on secrecy; he may have believed that I might prefer not to take part in the proceedings, of the method of which he knew that I disapproved, or he may have considered that Colonel House, with whom he had been in frequent conference as to certain compromises to be effected, was more competent to carry out his wishes than I, whom he had never consulted on these subjects One of these reasons was probably the real one for my not being asked to sit on the council of four in the President's place.

HIS VIEW OF INCIDENT IS DISCLOSED IN NOTE.

The view that I took of the matter four days after the incident occurred is expressed in the following note on the effect upon my personal position if I had been directed to act as Mr. Wilson's substitute:

'If I had taken part in the proceedings of the council of four I would have been credited with favoring these secretive methods which are utterly hostile to 'open diplomacy,' in which I firmly believe. I would have been placed in a false light and would have found it awkward to explain in the future. As it is, I am entirely free to denounce diplomatic secretiveness as I intend to do when the appropriate time comes to free my mind. It is really fortunate for me that the President preferred Colonel House to carry on secret negotiations which I would have found repugnant and which would have put me in the class of whispering diplomats, a reputation which I never wish to have because it belongs to the past era and not to the new one."

The chief value of this incident, which, in order that it might be understood, it has been necessary to treat at greater length than its importance warrants, is to show that the President lacked confidence in my judgment and probably doubted my loyalty to him personally, and that the widening breach in our relations was of a character that made it permanent our opinions in regard to the conduct of the negotiations were fundamentally opposed.

About the time that this event occurred, I wrote to an official of the Department of State in Washington:

"One thing this experience has taught me (the experience as to the secret method of conducting the negotiations, and not the experience of being ignored as a substitute on the council of four) and that is that 'open diplomacy' is the only diplomacy that a man should practice. These great vital questions cannot be settled in a corner by whispering one thing to one man and another thing to some one else. Secretiveness is the bane of the conference. It is really deplorable that some men cannot get away from the idea that craft and slyness are evidences of great statesmanship. It is an ancient conception which has come down through the ages and is advocated by a few who have no other qualifications and by others who are ill-advised."

(In his next installment Lansing gives some "concrete examples" of the evils of secret negotiations.)

FRANK COLBOURN

ALBERT E. CARTER

THE ISSUE IS CLEAR CUT

COMPARE THE CANDIDATES

—EVERY VOTER who casts his ballot on May 10th will do one of two things

—He will vote for COLBOURN and CARTER, two competent men, OR —He will vote to turn over to the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS of Alameda County two of the most responsible offices in the city government.

—THE PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS are making a desperate effort to come back. An aroused public opinion some time ago sent them scurrying for cover.

—Now the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS believe that the public has lapsed into indifference and they are trying to slip back into power.

—THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE, sponsoring the candidacy of COLBOURN and CARTER, is composed of men and women who have the best interests of their city at heart—who believe that city officials entrusted with responsibility of city government should have the training and qualifications to enable them to measure up to the responsibility of their offices.

—THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE now asks that every citizen who has the interest of the city at heart to think over the situation and go to the polls and vote on May 10th.

—AND NOT ONLY VOTE BUT GET HIS OR HER FRIENDS TO VOTE.

—IN THIS you will notice one of the radical differences between the men and women who have the interests of their city at heart and the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS.

—THE PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS HAVE ONE PRAYER—a light vote. They are afraid of a big vote, always have been and always will be.

—FRANK COLBOURN has learned the city's needs in fourteen years' experience as Secretary of the Civil Service Board.

—ALBERT E. CARTER is an attorney of highest standing, who made a great record in the government service during the war in war camp community work. He is a past president of the Rotary Club.

—Compare the qualifications of Colbourn and Carter with the qualifications of the men whom the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS are so desperately trying to elect.

You Must Not Be Misled by Eleventh Hour Propaganda

—Malicious statements are again being circulated by the professional politicians opposed to Colbourn and Carter that they, if elected, will reappoint Walter J. Petersen as Chief of Police. Both Colbourn and Carter, as well as Mayor John L. Davie and Commissioner William J. Baccus, have pledged themselves that they will not vote for Walter J. Petersen for Chief of Police while they hold office and THEY STAND BY THIS PLEDGE.

—Furthermore, our opponents are making the statement that a vicious religious document emanated from us. This is a MALICIOUS LIE. We offer $500 reward for proof of same.

Only in Sunday's Edition of Oakland Tribune Will These Features Appear

Andre Tardieu, French statesman and diplomat, gives warning of a plot by certain Americans and Frenchmen to disrupt the cordial relations existing between the two nations. He refutes the statement made that President Wilson had urged former Premier Clemenceau to conceal from the French people the hostility of American Senators to the League of Nations negotiations.

Maximilian Harden, the only German who dared talk back to the Kaiser, makes a plea that the United States use its efforts to prevent the allies from making a fatal step in invading Ruhr. Wise Germans, he says, had no thought that President Harding would attempt to arbitrate the reparations issue, but they feel that America has the moral and economical strength to force conditions on both camps and thereby bring about a reasonable compromise.

Rene Viviani, former French premier, declares that France will tolerate no further delay on the part of Berlin. He asserts that Germany is well able to pay the indemnity demanded and fixed by the reparations commission. France is weary of obstructive tactics and he promises that the Ruhr invasion will be effected.

A seemingly ill-timed celebration of the Napoleon centenary has not filled the war-worn people of France with any great enthusiasm over the coming military occupancy of the Ruhr district in Germany, says William Bird. Sane Frenchmen are hoping an eleventh-hour capitulation by Germany may lead to further negotiations in which America will assist in framing the final solution of the reparations question.

The industrial depression in Great Britain is assuming alarming proportions, says Arthur Henderson, former member of the British war cabinet. Over 2,000,000 workers are reported to be out of employment.

The action of President Harding in accepting an invitation for the United States to be represented in the supreme council of the allies has caused dismay to irreconcilables in the Senate, says Robert T. Small, and a breach is threatened. The step indicates that America is to participate actively in world affairs.

Elizabeth King Stokes says that former President Wilson has so improved in health that he is receiving callers daily and is taking a lively interest in national affairs.

Harden Colfax says that the cut by the Federal Reserve banks in interest rates has had such a stimulating effect on business that the outlook today is brighter than at any time since the armistice was signed. The skies of finance and industry are clearing, he says.

Secretary Wallace tells Ralph Barton that plans are being projected whereby he hopes to enlist the aid of the business men of the country in a movement to assist the farmers. High freight rates are throttling agriculture, he says.

Stuart P. West, in a review of Wall street says the ground for business recovery has been laid and the situation is on a sounder basis than for six years.

In the world of sports Walter Camp discusses the approaching boat races and says that the visit to the East of the University of California crew will serve to heighten interest in the Hudson river events. Sparrow McCann says fight fans already are speculating as to who Jack Dempsey's next opponent will be after the Carpentier affair and he gives a possible line up. George Chadwick tells of the tactics of managers of clubs in the big baseball leagues.

Arthur Stringer has one of his most dramatic stories in "Gun Play" in the Sunday Magazine section. It is complete in this issue.

H. Bedford-Jones completes his fascinating story of San Francisco, "Other Men's Shoes."

George C Henderson gives for the first time the full facts concerning "The Thirty Strong Gang," the biggest band of criminals ever to operate in the West.

Josephus Daniels tells how an American spy outwitted the German secret service, how the United States had a man working right in the center of the German clique in South America, even speaking at the German banquets.

Frederick O'Brien, in his latest chapter of "White Shadows in the South Seas," tells how the Marquesans cook and eat centipedes and strange fish.

Edith Johnson has two more chapters of her charming serial, "Would You Marry Your Husband Over Again?"

Geraldine discusses "Fair Play" in connection with the marriage relation and exposes the pretenses of "high-brow" excuses for wrongdoing.

Andrew Carnegie gives further insight into labor troubles he overcame.

The Knave dissects and elucidates events of the moment in his usual inimitable style.

Conviction of State's Witness Is Approved

SACRAMENTO, May 7 — The third United States district court of appeal today affirmed the judgment of the superior court of Merced county, and denied the appeal of Arthur Barrios, convicted of robbing a store of $1200 worth of merchandise some time ago at Atwater, Merced county.

The case, according to deputies in the office of Attorney General U. S. Webb, is with one exception, without parallel in California courts. Barrios appealed on the ground that the evidence he had given in the trial of his alleged accomplice, M. Jiminez, who pleaded guilty, had been used against him and he had thus been forced to give testimony against himself. The court held that while his testimony could not be legally termed a confession, there had been no coercion and for this reason the proceedings were regular.

Arraignment Is Set for Slayer of Sons

SAN RAFAEL, May 7.—Formal arraignment of John Cornyn, confessed slayer of his two young sons in Marin county, April 24, was held here yesterday. Cornyn pleaded not guilty. Defense counsel indicated that his case would be based on a plea of insanity. Cornyn was held to appear before the court againnext Friday, when the date for the trial will be fixed.

Rev. Frank W. Padelford of New York City, secretary of the Board of Education of the Northern Baptist Convention, will speak tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. At the dedication ceremonies, which take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, four addresses will be made. Rev. John N. Garst will deliver the invocation, Professor John W. That this is an age of specialization and individuality, particularly in the matter of personal tastes in motor cars, is the conclusion reached by Charles Rosenthal Jr., in charge of the northern division of the Walter M. Murphy Company, coach builders, following a survey of the Northern California territory just completed.

Rosenthal, who has but recently assumed control of the Murphy custom-built interests in this territory, declares that throughout this section of the state there is a marked demand for specially built motor car bodies according to the individual ideas and designs of owners. Certain refinements of appointments and grace of line not found in the general run of the factory products are required by motor car owners of discrimination, who demand "something different" and stand ready to pay for that difference.

Though the Walter M. Murphy Company has branched out into most northern California cities, already inquiries have been received from points that have not been touched as to the possibilities of having individual body designs built upon standard chassis. The Murphy company is prepared to do just this type of work on all makes of cars, American or European, and numerous jobs have been undertaken of late.

"Hitherto," Rosenthal pointed out, "motor car owners desiring special coach work on their cars were forced to send their orders in to eastern firms, and consequently were greatly delayed in receiving delivery. The Walter M Murphy coach building plant at Pasadena is fully equipped to take care of orders for any and all types of bodies. Experts in their respective lines are at the head of the various departments, and the latest machinery for turning out orders without delay is available."

ROAD TO STRAWBERRY OPEN.

OAKDALE, May 7.—The road to Strawberry is now open for automobiles, and is in very good condition. Fishing in the neighborhood of that resort, however, is very poor owing to high water. It will not be favorable for several weeks.

Near Coulterville trout fishing is reported excellent, though it is necessary to walk in eight miles to reach the best trout streams. A local party recently took the limit of big ones in half an hour.

Black bass are biting voraciously at Goodwin's Dam, on the Stanislaus, some miles above here. The dam is easily reached by auto, but drivers are warned to exercise great care, one part of the road being no place for the inexperienced to attempt to negotiate, owing to a sudden turn and a steep grade.

Salt Spring reservoir, near Milton, is also a good bass resort. Any driver can easily reach it.

DRIVE SLOW IN SACRAMENTO

Motorists are warned by George S. Grant, manager of the Touring Bureau of the California State Automobile Association, to keep within the speed limits in the vicinity of Sacramento. Judge Silas Orr of Sacramento has decided that fines do not deter motorists from fast driving, and beginning next week will impose jail sentences.

San Benito county is also rigidly enforcing the fifteen-mile limit over the San Juan grade.

MARRIED TO TWO SAILORS, GIRL IS UNDER ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Because someone told Mrs. Lulu Robinson Rose, 20, that conviction of her husband, Noah Rose, by court martial on charge of desertion was legal ground for divorce, she married John Smolley, another former sailor, and is now in the city prison charged with bigamy. When Smolley found out that his supposed was not legally divorced from Rose, he swore out a warrant charging her with bigamy.

From her first husband, incarcerated at Mare Island Naval prison, the young woman received a letter stating that he, Rose, would stand by her through thick and thin, although he still had three months to serve. She showed the letter to Police Judge O'Brien and the court attendants yesterday and with tears in her eyes she declared that she "knew Noah would stand by me and I love him, too."

The case will be called again on Monday before Police Judge D. S. O'Brien.

THE JOY OF A HOME THAT PAYS FOR ITSELF

By William H. Duncan

There is a crispness in the home-grown lettuce which the green-grocer neither keeps nor sells; a delicacy of flavor and an evanescent bloom in the home-grown grape or plum, which money spent with the fruiterer can never buy.

Above all there is a joy in the production of your own vegetables, your own fruits and your own flowers, a joy in making your own soil yield—the joy of reaping the profits of your own pleasure—and the only way to realize it is to have a little home-farm all your own.

All Your Own

If you really want your very own house and your very own rich-soiled little farm—with beautiful surroundings in the sunny district most free from north-wind, fog and haze—right on a car line and within easy reach of everything—you have that opportunity NOW.

Here you can grow vegetables, berries, chickens, rabbits or fruit; build a temporary home at once, if you like, and make the land pay for itself, pay for your home and pay you a profit.

The Home Garden Club has offered a $100 prize to the Leona Heights Addition who grows the most potatoes, planted after May 9, on a ¼ acre, to be paid a week before Christmas, 1921. If the winner is a woman the prize will be $150.

Soil That's Virgin Rich

The land is perfect for home-building. The soil is virgin-rich. Many home-farms are already planted. Come and see for yourself. Anything—including the kiddies—will grow here like wild flowers.

Chabot Observatory was moved to Leona Heights because scientists found that this section was the one most free from fog and haze in all the bay district. It is sheltered from the north wind.

Street Car At the Door

The Leona car line now runs direct to Leona Heights Addition and puts you within a 6c ride of Oakland. The new Mountain Boulevard is on one side of the property, the Foothill Boulevard (at 73d avenue) on the other. Easy commuting distance of Alameda or San Francisco. Grammar and High Schools within walking distance.

But $5 a Month

Make your own terms—pay down as little as $20, and have your home-site at once. It's easy to pay $5 a month thereafter. There are no little city lots here. All ¼ acres are at least equal to 100 by 108 feet and priced as low as $250 while they last, and this includes city water, graded and surfaced streets. Full acres as low as $400.

Take Possession Today

You can build a temporary home at a trivial cost. The cost of building materials has dropped. You can start your garden at once. You can grow "truck" for your own table and the market. Every ¼ acre purchased before May 10 will be plowed, if you wish. And consider the fun, the health and peace you'll have in the bargain.

Decide NOW

You must see Leona Heights Addition to appreciate its merits. See the property TODAY. It will appeal to you immediately—its wonderful beauty and its natural and convenient advantages. And if you want a one-man farm—unusually rich in soil—in the city but not of the city—HERE IT IS. An opportunity like this may never again be presented.

Six-Cent Fare

Take the "K" car at (Key Route Inn), Twenty-second street and Broadway—ride direct to Leona Heights Addition. SISTER OF WOMAN SUICIDE SOUGHT

Search is being conducted by the Oakland police today to ascertain the whereabouts of a sister of "Mrs. Waller," the young woman found dead, a suicide, yesterday morning, in a rooming house at 1508 Seventh street. When she registered at the rooming house, she told Mrs. Grace Hawkins, the landlady, that she had a sister living in Alameda but did not mention her name.

Smelling gas coming from Mrs. Waller's room, Mrs. Hawkins notified the police who broke in the door. They found Mrs. Waller lying on a table close to a gas stove with her head hanging over the stove. She had covered her head and the gas jets with a blanket.

On the table was found the following note:

"I am ill and tired. No one responsible but myself."

The young woman found dead is described as being about 32 years old, well dressed and a brunette. A traveling bag filled with clothing was found in her room, but no papers which might lead to positive identification were found. The body is at the morgue.

SUFFERED ALL A WOMAN COULD

Mrs. Meyer Finally Found Relief and Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Orange, Cal.—"I always feel very grateful to you, as some twenty years ago three doctors said I had to have a serious operation. I had a tumor, and ulcers which would gather and break. I had displacement so badly that I could hardly sit down at times, and it seemed as if I suffered everything that a woman could suffer. Then some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it until I was cured and saved from the operation. I have told women of your wonderful medicine times without number, and I am willing that you should use these facts and my name if you like. I also used your Compound during the Change, and I can do all my own work but the heavy part, and can walk miles every day as I help my husband in the office."—Mrs. J. H. MEYER, 412 South Orange St., Orange, California.

A great many women who suffered like this have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mount Holyoke Alumnae Plan Publicity Drive

Alumnae in the bay cities of Mount Holyoke, the oldest woman's college in the United States, have joined in a nation-wide movement among graduates of the Massachusetts institution to make the month of May the occasion for acquainting their communities with the need of the college for an endowment fund.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Sidney W. Clark, Pacific Coast chairman of the endowment fund campaign, and Miss Florence Allen of San Francisco, district chairman for northern California, each graduate has taken on herself individual responsibility for raising a certain quota. Mrs. Edward Griffith is the chairman for Oakland, Mrs. Frank Harris for Berkeley, Miss Frances Davis for San Francisco and Miss Phoebe Reed for Palo Alto.

"Holyoke's scholastic standing is well known, but the fact that social and home service, the fitting of girls for useful lives as well as for social enjoyment is not so generally understood," said Mrs. Clark yesterday. "Of the 125 graduates living in the bay cities, a large part of them are engaged in social service work and teaching."

Newly elected officers of the Northern California Association of Mount Holyoke Alumnae are: President, Dr. Vernette L. Gibbons, Mills College; first vice-president, Mrs. Frank Harris, Berkeley; second vice-president, Miss Helen Fisk, San Francisco; third vice-president, Mrs. Edward Griffith, Berkeley; secretary, Miss Laura A. Walker, San Francisco.

Reminiscences of Mount Holyoke College went around the luncheon table at Mills College last Saturday when Dr. Vernette L. Gibbons, head of the chemistry department, entertained several other alumnae of Mount Holyoke, Mrs. Sidney W. Clark of Hartford, Conn., who is spending the winter in California, being the guest of honor. The other alumnae of the South Hadley, Mass., institution entertained were Mrs. S. R. Sponsler and Miss Sarah Hollands of Mills College and Mrs. Sidney W. Allinson and Miss Maude H. Marks of Lodi. Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, and Miss Travers of the Mills faculty also were guests at Dr. Gibbons' luncheon.

Trinity Episcopal church will furnish the setting this evening for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Kydd, beautiful New York girl, and Paul Mitchell Kydd, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hall of this city. About two hundred guests will be present and the ceremony will be performed by Rev. Lloyd Thomas, rector of the church. The altar before which the couple will be married, will be banked with hawthorne, sweet peas and foliage carrying out an effective color scheme of pink, white and green, with pink as the predominating color. Palm branches and ferns will be used throughout the remainder of the church.

The bride will wear a gown of ivory satin draped with Brussels lace embroidered with pearls and caught with tiny clusters of orange blossoms. The lace was also used to ornament the long train of satin. Her veil of lace will be held in place with a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms and gracefully draped over the train. She will carry a shower bouquet of orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley combined with satin ribbon and tulle.

Mrs. Paul de Fremery (Lucile Parr), the matron of honor, will be attired in a crepe de chine gown elaborated with lace and will carry an armful of pink roses tied with tulle.

There will be two flower girls, Eleanor Hill, who will wear a dainty frock of apricot crepe de chine with a wide sash, and Dixie Drew, who will wear a similar dress in blue. Both will carry gold baskets filled with flowers. Gerald Schuyler will be best man for Kydd. Following the ceremony at the church there will be a reception and supper at the Hall home near Lake Merritt. Only relatives and a few intimate friends will be present. Kydd and his bride will take a honeymoon trip in their automobile and will make their home in Sacramento.

Pioneers of City Form Club

By EDNA B. KINARD

Residence in Oakland a half century ago has become the prerequisite to membership in the Woman's Auxiliary to the Oakland Pioneers' Society whose frank purpose is the renewing and cementing of old friendships, the using of old songs and old dances to bring back the spirit of old times. The initial steps toward a permanent organization were taken Wednesday when a group of women eligible to the auxiliary roll, assembled at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Green Farwell in Crescent street, to discuss plans.

Mrs. Farwell was elected temporary chairman with Mrs. Emily Buckbout Baker temporary secretary. A constitution and by-laws will be drafted by Mrs. Cora Andrews Merritt, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Katie Sturm Fiberling, Miss L. C. L. Janssen and Mrs. Etta Peckham Wixson, who also have been instructed to select a place of meeting.

Others who were present were: Mrs. Nellie Reed Mayon, Mrs. Julia Cavasso Larkin, Mrs. Maggie Gilmour Bridgman and Miss Elsie Aldrich. Among others who have signified their intention of becoming active in the affairs of the pioneer women of Oakland are: Mrs. Millie Scott Biven, Mrs. Lizzie Burr Nelle, Miss Lizzie Sturm, Miss Kate Cole, Miss Lily Cole, Mrs. Mary Cavasso McDonald, Mrs. Etta Hinton Scoville.

A list of 150 women who lived in Oakland 50 years ago has been framed. Invitations to become affiliated with the new organization will be sent to every half-century old resident whose whereabouts can be discovered. Wives of Oakland pioneers will probably be invited to become associate members.

Mrs. Mary Cameron Benjamin, poet and close friend of William Cullen Bryant, will be the guest of honor of Fruitvale Women's Club on Thursday, giving the major part of the program. A short concert will be rendered by Miss Karlina Jump, 'cello. Mrs. Dow C. Golden, president, will preside. The annual election of officers will be a feature of the short business meeting.

Mrs. H. J. Platts has been elected to succeed Mrs. Katheryne Shores Walsh as president of Glenview Woman's Club. Mrs Platts, in assuming her new duties, adds one more to a heavy responsibility already being carried as director and chairman of civics in the Oakland New Century Club; chairman of industrial and social relations in the Oakland Club; president of Oakland State Housewives' League, and first vice-president of the State Housewives' League; second vice-president of the California Home Canning Association and chairman of the children's clothing bureau, Associated Charities.

Those who have been elected to direct the destinies of the Fourth avenue club with Mrs. Platts during the coming year are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. S. L. Ayres, Mrs. Herbert Stout; recording secretary, Mrs. M. A. Mayrisch; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Herbert Wise; treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Bemiss; chairman of standing committee, Mrs. A. S. Cookson.

Cards are being received from the California Federation of Women's Clubs inviting prominent men and women of the state to attend the Twentieth annual convention which will be held in Yosemite Valley May 24-27. Up to date 800 reservations have been made for the meeting in the national park.

Mrs. Elon Warner, 63 Monte Vista avenue, Oakland, has been named chairman of transportation in Alameda district. She requests that reservations for the special daylight train from the bay cities to the valley be filed in writing with her immediately. A group of 150 clubwomen from this district have already signified their intention of joining the party.

A pageant rally was held in Ebell clubhouse this morning, at the call of Mrs. W. W. Blair, district pageant chairman. Outline of the Amazon period to which the local clubs have been assigned in the pictorial history of California to which an entire day of the convention will be devoted, was presented and discussed.

The crowning of Mrs. N. S. Hubbard, 92 years old, as Queen of the May, was the pretty custom observed on Monday by members of the Hill Club. Club poets—Mrs. John Moylan and Mrs. Madison Ferris—wrote original verse to mark the ceremonies. A wreath of club colors was placed upon the head of the venerable Queen. Those who contributed the program were Mrs. H. M. Hastings, Clarence Oliver, Mrs. Kegg and Mrs. Marian Oliver Roberts.

The members will meet on Monday with Mrs. F. C. Pague and Mrs. Edwin Newton.

Hawthorne Parent-Teacher Association has challenged Fruitvale Association to a rowing match on Lake Merritt. The Hawthorne mothers have recruited fourteen of their number to the boat crews, two weeks' practice promising a goodly record in athletics. The mothers under the captaincy of Mrs. Jack Walker, will spend next Friday afternoon on the lake under the direction of Miss Winifred McMurray, Hawthorne recreation supervisor.

John K. Norton, former member of the Research department in the Oakland school department, now principal of Fruitvale school, was the speaker before the Thursday meeting.

"Ninety-five per cent of the elementary school graduates enter the high schools of Oakland," Norton told the mothers.

The retiring and incoming boards of Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet at an elaborately arranged luncheon at Hotel Oakland next Saturday. Covers will be laid for forty. It will be a "family party" attended by the two official bodies only. Mrs. C. H. Mitchell is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Jury Says Rancher's Death Was Accident

CHICO, May 7.—The body of Frank Thum, wealthy rancher, was found submerged in a foot of water about a mile and a half up Big Chico creek. It is believed that he was attacked by a fainting spell while walking along the bank of the creek and fell in. No signs along the bank or marks on the body indicate that he had met with foul play.

A coroner's jury submitted a verdict of accidental death at an inquest held over the body at 4 o'clock today. The body was found face down in the water by Oscar Rickman of Vina, who happened by the scene shortly after noon.

Diamond Mines Make Drastic Retrenchment

JAGERSFONTEIN, South Africa, May 7.—There has been further retrenchment in the diamond mines here and underground work has ceased. It is estimated that the employees will shortly number only 60 Europeans and 800 boys, compared with 900 and 3000 respectively, before the war.

The men who are leaving will receive two months' pay. Many families have already left the town and business is at a standstill.

Two Kinds of Women

WE know a woman, who when she needs to purchase necessary things for the home or the family puts on her shopping costume, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and sallies forth.

She shops street one here and up there chases and and down another hunting and h-u-n-t-i-n-g. When she gets a home she is j z y and j-a-d-e-d. She feels all mussed up mentally z and physically.

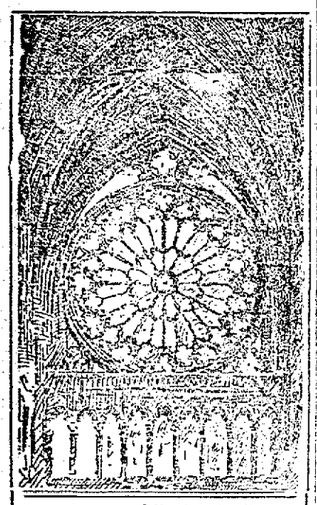

We know another who has learned the art of reading the advertisements before she starts out. She finds out what she wants and where to get it. Then she goes straight down town and right to the store that has IT.

In this way she saves time, money and effort and comes home fresh as a daisy and ready to get friend husband a good dinner instead of taking him to the cafeteria.

Opera Singer To Appear at First Baptist

A great musical treat is in store at the First Baptist church tomorrow evening. Miss Lula Root, formerly leading contralto with the Washington Grand Opera company of Washington, D. C., has just returned from a concert tour in New Zealand and is resting up for two weeks in and about San Francisco before starting out on a tour of the Pacific Coast states. She will be present and sing "Love Never Faileth," by Frederick Root. When she goes on to her home in New York in the fall she will have traveled 40,000 miles and given over 200 concerts. The subject of Rev. John Snape's sermon will be "My Mother and I." As the day will be "Mothers' Day," everyone attending this service should wear a flower—preferably a carnation—in honor of his or her mother, a red one if she be alive and a white one if she has gone.

At the morning service Dr. Snape will preach on "God's Ownership." The augmented choir will render appropriate music, assisted by the quartet, consisting of Eileen Almstead Piggott, Ruth Hall Crandall, Hugh J. Williams and Charles Lloyd.

In a recent contest for suggestions for a church slogan, Hugh W. Thomas won the prize, his recommendation being "The Growing Going Church." The slogan was officially adopted.

Rev. Howard Kerr, Brooklyn Pastor, Will Go to Denver

REV. HOWARD I. KERR, pastor of Brooklyn Presbyterian church, who has resigned to become executive secretary of the Church Extension Board of Denver, Colorado.

Pastor to Become Secretary of Extension Board of the Presbytery.

Recognizing that the call to a greater work should be considered above love for a pastor and a desire to have him continue his efforts in the pastorate, the congregation of the Brooklyn Presbyterian church has become partly reconciled to the departure of its pastor, Rev. Howard I. Kerr, for Denver, Colorado.

When Dr. Kerr first tendered his resignation two weeks ago, there was some talk upon the part of the congregation of refusing to accept it, so great has become the regard with which the members of Brooklyn look upon their pastor. But calm deliberation and the thought that Dr. Kerr has been called to a greater work have triumphed, and he will preach his last sermon in Brooklyn church tomorrow evening. His subject will be "The Thrice Called."

"This will not be a farewell sermon," said Dr. Kerr, in announcing the subject last Sunday. "I hate that word. I am merely taking a sort of vacation."

SECRETARY OF BOARD.

Dr. Kerr came to Oakland from the east five and one-half years ago and was immediately made pastor of Brooklyn church. At that time the Presbyterian churches in the bay region were not organized, and each church was working in individual and sometimes conflicting fields. A short time after his arrival here Oakland and San Francisco churches, fifty-seven in all, were organized as the San Francisco Presbytery. Dr. Kerr was made recording secretary of the Church Extension Board of the Presbytery, consisting of eight men, both lay and clergy. It was his work in connection with this board that won Dr. Kerr recognition and the call to Denver.

Denver is now going through the same period of reorganization that San Francisco and Oakland passed through before the organization of the San Francisco Presbytery. Dr. Kerr was called to Denver to aid in this reorganization work and will have as his official title executive secretary of the Church Extension Board of the Denver Presbytery. The board consists of 16 men and is headed by Rev. W. H. R. Boyle, formerly pastor of one of the Presbyterian churches in Oakland.

Americanization work among the 50,000 foreigners of Denver and vicinity will be one of Dr. Kerr's chief tasks in his new field. Church extension work and supervision of the building of new churches will also be among the duties he will be called upon to perform.

RECEPTION MONDAY.

A reception in his honor will be held by the members of the congregation Monday evening. Mrs. Marion Brower, formerly soloist at Brooklyn church and now soloist at Christ Episcopal church, will sing during the evening.

At the services tomorrow Mothers' Day will be appropriately observed in the morning. "Mother O' Mine" is the theme upon which Dr. Kerr will speak tomorrow morning. Features of the morning service will include a solo "Little Mother of Mine" by the Scotch tenor, Alexander McAdams, and exercises by the Silver Link Girls' Club. Infant baptism and the reception of new members will be held following the service.

Tomorrow evening special music will be rendered by the vested choir under the direction of Miss Goldie White. By special request R. B. Todd and Florence Morrison will sing as a duet, "Though Your Sins Be As Scarlet."

Special Services Mark Birth Anniversary of Bishop Taylor

The first sermon preached to the gold-seeking pioneers who settled on the east side of the bay in 1849 was delivered by Bishop William Taylor, whose one hundredth birthday anniversary is being celebrated by the Methodist denomination throughout the world this week with a special program being executed in the bay city under the auspices of the William Taylor Memorial association.

While the earlier padres were engaged in their work in San Francisco William Taylor, then an aggressive young preacher of 28, undertook to conduct street meetings in the heart of the gambling and vice center of the city. While he yielded not an inch in the way of compromise he soon gained the respect of the element through kindly admonitions rather than by threat and denunciation. Instead of being molested, he was revered and protected. The temporary scarcity of building materials sent Taylor to the east side of the bay, where, from the present Fruitvale district, gigantic redwoods were hewn down and reduced to shakes, which he carried across the bay for his home. During his first trip for this purpose Taylor preached the first sermon to the inhabitants of the village that at that time existed.

Bishop Taylor, for many years a resident of Alameda, was the father of E. K. Taylor, a present resident, and for two terms mayor of Encinal City. He was the first and only Methodist bishop to be appointed direct from the laity.

During his labors in India seven conferences were established and developed. He served in bishopric capacity also in Australia, South America and Africa. In the latter country he collaborated with Henry M. Stanley, noted explorer, in publishing the first paper in the country, "Illustrated Africa." Bishop Taylor came known as "The flaming torch of Africa."

The first steamboat to sail up the Congo was built under Bishop Taylor's direction and was designed by an engineer now living in San Jose. It was named the "Anna Taylor," for his wife.

Representatives from practically every nation will participate in the memorial exercises to be held at the graveside of Bishop Taylor in Mountain View cemetery, Oakland, on Sunday, May 22.

The Memorial association personnel was announced by Bishop Adna W. Leonard, the chairman, as follows: Dr. W. S. Matthew, Rev. John Stephens, Rev. H. E. Milnes, Rolla V. Watt, J. H. McCallum, Charles H. J. Truman, Fred D. Parr, Harry Morton, Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, Rev. E. R. Dille, Rev. E. P. Dennett, Rev. A. Wesley Mell, Rev. Tully C. Knowles, Major C. N. Kirkbride, Rev. J. 'GOOD MOTHERS' IS SUBJECT AT OLIVET CHURCH

The Rev. Harold Govette, pastor of Olivet Congregational church, will preach on the theme "Good Mothers" tomorrow in connection with the observance of Mothers' Day. In treating this subject Pastor Govette will point out that mothers have done more for the world and modern civilization than all of the legislators of the land. Pastor Govette believes that the greatest work in the church has been performed by the mothers, and he will emphasize this thought in his sermon tomorrow morning.

A committee of women of the church will decorate it for the occasion with red and white carnations. Suitable flowers will also be furnished all those who attend the service.

At the evening hour the pastor will speak on "Rejecting a Kingdom."

'OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER' WILL BE PASTOR'S THEME

Rev. W. A. Schwimley, pastor of Calvary Congregational church, will describe an old fashioned mother and tell of her influence in the development of a stalwart and honest race, in his sermon on "An Old Fashioned Mother," to me delivered tomorrow morning in observance of Mothers' Day. The quartet and choir will sing music appropriate to her for whom the day is observed.

The evening sermon will be the second in the series upon the general subject, "What Must the Church Do To Be Saved?" The theme for tomorrow evening will be "Some Problems in the Church." The series of sermons is being well received, it is stated, since each sermon points out the duties of the modern church and the influence it should seek to exert upon the community.

PASTOR'S TOPIC TOMORROW WILL BE ON 'MOTHER'

"Mother—What a Grand Name," is the subject of a sermon which Rev. F. J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church, will preach tomorrow morning in celebration of Mothers' Day. The vested choir will sing "Mother o' Mine" during the service. The entire church school will share in the observance of the day.

As in the past, the Sunday evenings of the month of May will be used this year for the production of moving pictures savoring of the out-of-doors. Tomorrow evening the moving picture "Shanghai," will be produced with running comment apropos the famine fund. The feature of the evening will be the film "My Own United States," a screen production of the famous story "The Man Without a Country." By way of interlude Dr Van Horn will speak briefly on "Vote! Better Vote Wrong Than Not Vote at All And Vote for—" All good citizens and prospective citizens are invited.

ASCENSIONTIDE TOPIC

At Holy Innocents Chapel (Episcopal), Fifty-fifth street and Shattuck avenue, Ascensiontide will be the chief topic of discussion tomorrow. Special music has been arranged, and after the short informal evensong and picture lesson, the Men's club of the church will hold a booster meeting for the community center work, in connection with the raising of the building fund.

All persons who have already subscribed and others who contemplate doing so, have been requested to attend the meeting tomorrow evening and aid in carrying the drive along.

The club is planning a series of educational lectures at Sunday evening services in the near future. Social work among young people will be emphasized in the series.

DEL HOWARD EXPECTS TO GET LOUIE GUISTO FOR THE OAKS

TEXAS TOMMIES OF OAKLAND ROLL BIG SCORE AT FRESNO; LOCAL MEN LEAD IN THE DOUBLES

INFIELDER, PITCHER COMING TO BOLSTER OAKS IN FLAG RACE

Superintendent Howard Leaves for the North After Acting on Mysterious Deals All Week

By EDDIE MURPHY

George Elmer "Del" Howard, the big superintendent of the Oakland ball club, didn't make the trip to Portland with the club. He stayed right here in Oakland where he had some very important business to attend to. Del left Oakland last evening for Portland where he expects to join the local club Sunday, and his parting words were that he expected the Oaks to be bolstered in a couple of days by the addition of a couple of new men. Trying to land these players is what kept Howard from making the trip with the club last Sunday. The fact that he left yesterday is taken as evidence that the deal is about completed.

Unless some hitch develops Howard expects to land the men in a day or two; one will probably be an infielder and the other will be a pitcher. As was suspected, Louie Guisto the big first sacker and a big favorite with local fandom is one of the men that is likely to bolster the locals for their 1921 flag fight. It is an old story about Guisto wanting to get out of the majors and join the Oaks again and Howard says that he has been promised Guisto will not go to any other club but the Oaks if he gets out of the majors. The addition of Guisto would strengthen the Oaks a lot, even if Jack Knight is doing a good job at first base and hitting the ball hard and timely.

Maybe You Can Guess Name of New Chucker.

Just what sort of a shift would be made if Guisto returns to the Oaks is yet to be learned. It is hardly possible that Jack Knight would be kept on the bench, as he is too good a hitter. Fans shouldn't enthuse too much until it is definitely decided that Guisto will come out here again, as waivers have not been secured. According to information that Guisto has sent local friends, he isn't crazy about the east, but if asked to get out there and play first base for the Indians he is going to give the best that is in him.

The climate back there is not the kind that a fellow who has been gassed in the trenches can stand much of.

Howard was not taking any chances on giving out the name of the pitcher he hopes to annex, as there have been too many deals killed off by early announcements, by other managers in the league. Howard wouldn't even tell what club the pitcher was with, but there is nothing to stop one from guessing that it is Detroit, as that Club has promised the locals some help.

There was a rumor floating around that Carl Holling might be turned back, but that is hardly possible after the fine sendoffs he has received from the eastern scribes as well as from Billy Evans, the veteran umpire of the majors. They say that Bert (Smile) Cole is a bit inexperienced for the majors and is due to come back to the coast. Early in the season there was talk of Jimmy Middleton who was with the Toledo Club in the American Association last season being turned over to the Oaks. Middleton won twenty-six and lost fourteen games for that club last season, and with the Detroit Tigers he has ben serving as a relief pitcher. They say that Middleton looks like big league goods, and the Oaks would be lucky to get hold of a man like him. They would be lucky to get any one of the above-mentioned trio. But after all it may develop that it is not the Detroit club that is trying to let the Oaks have that pitcher.

Sutherland, Bassler Make Good Right At Start.

Bobby Jones, third sacker for the Detroit Tigers and one of our many California boys with Ty Cobb's outfit writes to say that besides Carl Holling making a big hit, "Suds" Sutherland, former Portland pitcher, and Johnny Bassler, who graduated from the Angels to the Tigers are making quite a hit. Sutherland was batted from the box by the St Louis Browns yesterday, but it was in his first few starts with the Tigers that "Suds" made the fans and scribes of Tigerville laud him. According to Jones, they think back east that "Suds" was all out of place in the Pacific Coast League and that he belonged in the majors long before this time. He is one of the smartest pitchers to ever step out of the Coast League into the majors, thinks Bobby and a good many others.

They are predicting that Johnny Bassler will develop into the leading catcher in the American league before long. Bassler has outsmarted the wise old heads who frame the plays for the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, and caused a number of well planned plays by the opposition to go just the opposite and pull his battery mates out of tight places. They say he showed up as well if not better than did Ray Schalk for the White Sox and O'Neil of the Indians.

RAINIERS POUND FOUR VERNON MOUNDSMEN.

SEATTLE, May 7.—The Seattle Rainiers won their first game from the Vernon Tigers yesterday afternoon, 7 to 5. Manager Essick of the Tigers used four hurlers against the locals but it did him no good. Eleven hits were gathered off the quartet of chuckers, Murphy and Cunningham getting three apiece. Al Demaree went the full distance for the Rainiers and was touched for eleven hits. The Tigers staged a rally in the eighth which netted them two runs and threw a big scare into the home crowd.

Charge Lewis With Error in The Box Score

NEW YORK, May 7.—A grappling error by Ed ("Strangler") Lewis has today cost him the heavyweight wrestling championship.

The wrestling crown is reposing on the bald brow of Stanislaus Zbyszko, who pinned Lewis to the mat in the surprisingly fast time of 23 minutes, 17 seconds.

The men had been wrestling on fairly even terms when Lewis suddenly made a lunge at Zbyszko in an attempt to clamp on the headlock. The hold slipped over "Zibby's" bald head and Lewis lost his balance, falling flat on his back.

In a trice the Pole was upon him and within five seconds was declared the victor by Referee Bothner.

Carpentier Gets Big Send-Off When He Sails

Georges Bringing Along His Own Cook and Everything.

PARIS, May 7.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion pugilist of Europe, left Paris this morning for Havre where he will take the steamer for America. About 100 friends accompanied Carpentier to the station, and when the word spread that the pugilistic idol of France was leaving for the United States, the station was filled with a crowd and oncoming commuters delayed their arrival at their offices to give the champion an ovation.

The fighter's party was completed on the eve of his departure by the engagement of "Battling" Marcot, known as a boxer, but, in addition a first-class cook, who will assure Carpentier of French cookery, to which he is habituated.

Confidence was the keynote of Carpentier's goodbye her today. In a farewell message to the sportsmen of France, through the Echo des Sports, he said:

"I know your wishes accompany me and I have every confidence I will do the best I can. If I am beaten the only thing for me to do will be to recognize the superiority of Dempsey. If I am the winner, I expect and keenly hope the American fighter will give me similar credit."

Texas Tommies Nosed Out by Only Three Pins

FRESNO, May 7.—The Belber Trunks, captained by Herb Smith, went into first place at the Pacific Coast bowling tournament here last night. Only three pins behind them were the Texas Tommies of Oakland.

The California Tigers, who have been leading up until last night, were crowded down into fourth place by the Dream Alley No. 11 with 2746 points. Benkosky and Ballard of the Texas Tommies smashed the maples for 1213, taking first place in the doubles, replacing Keenan and Parsons of San Francisco, who were the afternoon leaders.

Dudley of Los Angeles replaced Payne of Long Beach for first position of the singles when he piled up a score of 607.

BOWLING ON THE GREEN

What looked like the tail end of the Los Angeles cyclone hit the Lakeside green yesterday when the Oakland bowlers put it all over the southern players by winning both games with a gain of 17 points. The changing of skips, on the two Los Angeles teams proved disastrous, as their play seemed to fall off from the previous day.

Taylor and Hamilton again bowled splendidly, and Howden had an exceptionally good day. There is still a wide margin in favor of Los Angeles in points to be overcome in order to win the cup, due to their big scores made on their own green two weeks ago, and today the final two games are being played to determine its possession. Teams and scores:

Rink No. 1—Oakland, W. S. Robertson, Rev. Alex. Allen, C. E. Sweetman, R. Howden (skip). Los Angeles, A. Gourlay, A. E. Rudd, H. Monro, T. Walker (skip.)

GOLF

BY W.D. McNICOLL

Sam White is playing himself into form over the Claremont course while the Berkeley fairways and greens are waiting for much-needed warm weather to bring the grass along. Playing in a four-ball foursome this week with Frank Kales, John Black and David Trufelli, the Berkeley professional momentarily forgot he was not in Yorkshire and tried to take a bit of turf with his mashie shot from the fourth tee. The result was disastrous, as the Claremont tees refused to be treated in this fashion and a new shaft will have to be fitted to one of Whiting's pet clubs.

The use of a standard ball in any club tournament is now as necessary a part of the game and will be insisted upon just as much as any other rule in the U. S. G. A. and St. Andrews code. Numerous players have so far persistently continued to play with the heavy ball that is now barred, and will now, if they desire to compete in tournament events, find themselves handicapped while they adjust themselves to the lighter and slightly larger ball. Most of the leading professional players, both here and abroad, have already broken themselves into the 1.62 standard and find no difficulty in driving just as far as they did with the 31 dwt ball.

In selecting clubs or balls there can be no hard or fast rule as to which is the better club or ball, for the one that you discard today might suit you perfectly tomorrow, so don't part with an old friends in a hurry. A driving mashie that had been discarded after numerous try-outs was shown to Dr. C. H. Walter, and his favorable comment on the feel of the once much discredited iron resulted in it regaining a place once more in the player's bag. A successful shot to within holing distance at the eighth hole at Sequoyah when other clubs had failed was thhe result.

Baseball Gossip

It rained yesterday again at Los Angeles, so the Bees and Angels had anothher rest.

That was some hitting that Brubaker did for the Oaks yesterday—three out of three. Denny Wilie hit a double and two singles.

Al White again failed to hit safely, but he played a good game around second, according to the dope. He handled six chances without a boot.

Babe Pinelli made the only Oak error.

George Winn has won three games and not lost one for the Oaks.

Johnny Crouch crossed up Charley Pick in the third inning by placing a bunt down the third base line and reaching first without an effort being made to get him.

Billy Orr's double in the seventh was a high fly on which Kelly and Fitzgerald did an Alfonso-Gaston and it fell safe.

The Alameda Boy Scouts are to stage some kind of a contest to see which members of their troop will win the baseballs which were autographed by Cal Ewing, Del Howard and every other member of the Oakland ball club.

Manager Essick used Fromme, Mitchell, Schneider and Smallwood in trying to stop the Rainiers.

Former Coast leaguer again played a big part in the Detroit Tigers' 11 to 7 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Harry Heilmann, besides cutting off Brown's score by his sensational fielding in right field, came through with a homer, double and single and scored three runs.

Sutherland, Ehmke and Leonard pitched for the Tigers. Lew Blue, Johnny Bassler and Young hit two apiece while Jones went hitless.

George Sisler played a great game at first for the Browns and hit a triple, double and two singles.

Meusel hit four out of five for the Yankees, who defeated Washington, 9 to 2. Roger Peckinpaugh hit two safeties.

Olaf Erickson started in the box for the Senators and lasted two innings.

Louie Fonseca hit a double and single and played errorless ball at second for the Reds, who lost to the Cubs, 8 to 7. Sammy Bohne went hitless in five chances.

"Speed" Martin pitched the last inning for the Cubs and got credit for the win.

Zeb Terry hit two and Maisel and Hollocher one each for the Cubs.

Cutshaw hit three singles and scored four runs for the Pirates when they beat the Cardinals 10 to 6. Bigbee hit three safe ones for the same club.

Johnson, Mulligan, Hooper and Sheely all went hitless when Coveleskie shut out the White Sox with six hits.

Killefer's timely single in the ninth enabled the Cubs to nose out the Reds.

"Lefty" Winn Hurls Oaks to Easy Victory

Three Portland Pitchers Are Unable to Stop Local Sluggers.

PORTLAND, May 7.—Coming out of their batting slump, which the Portland Beaver pitchers held them to for the past few days, Honus Mitze's Oaks found very little trouble in making it two and two for their series with the Beavers. Three pitchers, Sam and Sid Ross and Johnson were used in trying to keep the victory away from the visitors, but they all looked alike to the Mitze forces. Fourteen hits is what they gathered and it netted them six runs against one—that was all the Beavers could get off George (Lefty) Winn.

This Winn person looks like a mighty fine southpaw, being one of those kind who can allow a fair number of hits in a ball game, but keep the score of the opponents well down. It is in the pinches when he shows his effectiveness. Thirteen men in all got on the bags for the locals, four of them on walks, eight on his and one on an error. Every Oak hustled himself in giving Winn good support and it was good defensive work that also made the Beavers fall deeper into the cellar.

Hack Miller, Denny Wilie and Ray Brubaker were the heavy stickers for the winners, each of them gathering three safe blows. Foreman Mitze switched his line-up around and had Pinelli at lead off with Baker batting after Miller. Everybody but Winn and White got his for the Oaks, and they each smashed out a line drive that fell into some fielder's hands.

Sid Ross lasted until the third, when he had to be taken out and replaced by Johnson, who went along fairly well until the eighth, when Sam Ross went in.

Brubaker, the Oakland shortstop, was injured in the ninth inning, when he made a slide into second base, but it is not likely that he will be out of the line-up more than a day or two, if at all, as he managed to take his position for the Beavers' half of the ninth.

Little Bushers Arrange Many Good Contests

Opening of the Tri-County League Is Feature of Program.

The plans of the little bushers last Sunday were upset by the unexpected visit of Jupiter Pluvius; local teams have practically decided to go through with almost the same program tomorrow as they had arranged for last week.

Another attempt will be made by the teams in the California Tri-county league to open their season with games at Vallejo and Petaluma while the C. L. Best Tractors of San Leandro will attempt to keep their date with the Melrose Merchants. The program at Lincoln Park, Alameda, has been changed, a double-header being billed with the Alameda and San Jose Elks' team tangling in the first contest at 1:30, following which the Halton-Didiers of Alameda will entertain the Modern Woodmen of Oakland. Other entertainment on local diamonds will take place at the Bay View diamond in West Oakland at 1:30 when the Maxwell Hardware team will tangle with the Indoor Yacht Club nine of San Francisco, and at the same place and same time the Vitt Grays will meet the Goodrich Rubber nine.

The opening games in the Tri-county league will show the Napa nine against Vallejo at the latter town and the California Cotton Millers at Petaluma.

"Dutch" Lundburg for the Vallejo nine against "Shorty" LaCloustra for the Millers will be the pitchers.

HEINIE LAY IS PEEVED.

Heinie Lay, the big righthander of the Tractors' is anxious for the meeting with the Melrose Merchants, as Heinie wants to get even for some remarks that the Class B boys made about his pitching. Melrose has promised to do all kinds of unkind things to Heinie's delivery, and Heinie wants to prove that they can't. Fred Mitterwald will be on the firing line for the Merchants.

Dick Parker will pitch for the Maxwells.

"Lefty" Didier will heave them over the pan for the Halton-Didiers at Alameda, while his opponent on the hill will be "Dummy" Land or Frank (Lefty) Biggs.

The Oakland Elks will leave town tomorrow and perform at the Newark diamond against the home nine. Al Schammell and George Crostwaite will be used by George Blethen as the Elks battery. They will be supported by such players as Leo Cunningham, Bill Osgood, Teal Ferreria, Herb Gerlach, Herb Remmer and Snowy Torgerson.

Last Night's Fights

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7.—Johnny McCarthy, San Francisco welterweight, and Frankie Murphy, of Denver, fought a ten-round draw here last night. The San Franciscan led in the early rounds of the battle, but by staging a rally in the latter rounds the Denver boxer obtained a draw.

Sammy Gordon, Portland featherweight, won a six-round decision from Mickey Dempsey of Portland. Dempsey floored Gordon for the count of nine in the first round, but Gordon came back and took the rest of the battle with a rush.

Jack Edmundson, Oakland middleweight, won a six-round decision from Al Winters of Seattle, and Weldon Wing, Portland featherweight, knocked out Irving Gleason of Seattle in the second round of a scheduled six-round bout.

SACRAMENTO, May 7. — Willie Cappelle, Los Angeles, defeated Johnny Nunes, Oakland, here last night. They are lightweights. Young Murphy, local bantam, defeated Franky Dolan, Los Angeles, and Frankie Denny, Oakland, defeated Bert Williams, Modesto.

HARRY HEILMAN LEADS HEAVY HITTERS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Ruth and Kelly Tied for Home Run Honors—With Seven Circuit Clouts Apiece.

CHICAGO, May 7.—George Kelly, nephew of the famous Bill Lange, who is playing first base for the New York Giants, is tied with "Babe" Ruth in circuit drives, according to averages released today and which include games of last Wednesday.

Kelly cracked out his seventh homer and pulled away from the slugging Yankee outfielder, but Ruth evened the score Friday at Washington. However, Ruth has the edge on his rival in batting, hitting .388 for 14 games, while Kelly has an average of .354 for 17 contests.

Miller of Philadelphia is topping the players in the National League who have played in ten or more games. He has an average of .444, while Johnston of Brooklyn is the runner-up with .433.

There is a merry race for the stolen base honors. Heathcote, St. Louis, Borne, Cincinnati and Maranville of Pittsburgh are tied with four each. Other leading batters: Tierney, Pittsburgh, .417; Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, .400; Hornsby, St. Louis, 388, Rawlings, Philadelphia, .370, Nicholson, Boston, 362; Kelly, New York, 354; Maranville, Pittsburgh, .354, Snyder, New York, .353.

Harry Heilman of Detroit increased his lead among the batters in the American League and is topping the regulars with an average of 521. Evans of Cleveland, who has been coming fast, has passed Stephenson, his team made for the honors of runner-up to the Tigerr slugger. Evans is hitting .481 while Stephenson's mark is .417.

Harris of Washington added another base to his base stealing total and is showing the way with five thefts.

Other leading batters. Witt, Philadelphia, .393; Charrity, Washington, .392; Cobb, Detroit, .389, Ruth, New York, .388; Tobin, St. Louis, .387; Sewell, Cleveland, 384; Veach, Detroit, 382.

Butler of Kansas City jumped out in front among the batters of the American Association, with an average of .508, while last week's leaders Miller and Armstrong of St. Paul, suffered a batting slump. Houser of Milwaukee is the runner-up with an average of 480. Zwilling of Kansas City added another home run drive to his string and is leading the circuit drive clouters with five. Dressen of St Paul jumped out in front in the race for stolen base honors, having stolen eight bases, leaving Shinners of Indianapolis with six and Boone of St. Paul with five.

Paddock of Sioux City continues to top the Western League batters with an average of .475, and is tied in home runs with Beck of Wichita, Davis of Tulsa and Blakesley of Wichita. Each member of this quartette has cracked out four circuit drives. Another quartette is tied for base stealing honors, with five apiece—Pitt of Oklahoma City, Haney of Omaha, E. Moore of Oklahoma City and Robertson of Joplin. Other leading batters: R. Smith, Joplin, .470; Beck, Wichita, .431; Walker, Joplin, .421; Davis, Tulsa, .407; Metz, Sioux City, .400; Leivelt, Omaha, .398, Lee, Omaha, .398; Krueger, Joplin, .390, Harper, Oklahoma City, .389.

Home Run by Bert Ellison Beats Coyotes

Ken Penner Steps in As Relief Hurler and Loses a Tough One.

The Seals and Coyotes staged another rattling ball game at Recreation park yesterday afternoon with the transbay athletes, winning out by a 3 to 2 score. A homer into the left field bleachers by Bert Ellison in the ninth inning with nobody out, sent the fans away from the park in a hurry, as they were just about prepared to sit through an extra inning contest.

Johnny Couch, the Palo Alto gentleman, pitched for the Seals and the big boy certainly toiled hard for his win. He let the Coyotes have but six hits, and it was only a bit of poor work on the part of the Seals' infield in the seventh inning that allowed the Coyotes to tie the score at all.

The Seals were fattening their batting averages at the expense of Kunz, when Manager Bill Rodgers decided to pull him from the box in the fourth inning with the bases filled and with two runs already credited to the Seals, due to timely hits in the second and third inning. Only one was out of the way in the fourth when Kunz was yanked, and Kenneth Penner did some very nifty pitching to retire the side without a score. A clever play by Charley Pick on a ball hit to him by Couch cut off a possible score at the plate. Ellison's rap into the bleachers was only the third hit made off Penner, and the Seals didn't have much chance of scoring off him before that time.

A single by Pick and a double by Fred Mollwitz gave the Coyotes one in the fourth. In the sixth Mollwitz got a single and traveled all the way to third when Compton laid down a sacrifice bunt and the entire Seal infield played for Compton and left third base unprotected. Justin Fitzgerald made a spectacular catch of Ryan's line drive, but he couldn't keep Mollwitz from scoring after the catch.

Ellison's clout was a long one and easily went into the left center bleachers. The Seals are now leading in the series, with two wins to their credit against one for the Coyotes.

The Homing Loft

The Pacific Homing Pigeon club ushered in the 1921 pigeon racing season last Sunday, and the boys over in Alameda are rejoicing over the great showing their lofts made in the 100 mile sprint from Marysville.

The first three honors went to the Island city contingent, as well as most of the prize and pool money, but the fanciers from the surrounding towns are coming back strong tomorrow, when the 150 mile Van Antwerp handicap is flown from Gerber.

The breaks were all in favor of the Alameda birds in the opening race, as a strong south wind was blowing at the time of arrival, which helped to drive the racing pigeons across the estuary.

"Shoo-fly," the crack racer from the Elmhurst loft of A. W. Asvitt, landed at its loft in record time, but was frightened by an aeroplane overhead, and several precious minutes were lost before the aerial racer was induced to enter the trap.

The "West End Lofts" of Felows and Bajuk ran true to form in the Cliff Durant handicap, winning second and fifth money. Bajuk's entry beating the loft of John Lubben by a scant yard.

Denny Murphy was out on the road on last race day and din't get the results until a couple of days later, when the Oakland TRIBUNE was handed him at Truckee. "Denny's" entry also balked at the trap on arrival and several minutes were lost in an endeavor to clock him in.

"Jakey" Wright offers a perfectly good alibi why his speedster finished in the rut, the bird returning with a broken flight feather, and blistered feet. "Jakey" thinks his famous "Hoose-gow" must have had hard hiking along the country roads from Marysville, and is figuring to equip his racers with shin guards in the next race.

Charge of Frameup in Lewis-Zbyszko

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 7.—Wrestling circles here were deeply stirred today by charges made by J. B. Wede, president of the Citizens' League, at a massmeeting last night that the Zbyszko-Lewis wrestling match at New York last night, which Zbyszko won, was a 'frame up.' Weede declared he had positive information that it had been prearranged that Zbyszko was to win.

Weede further charged that he knew in advance that the Lewis-Caddock match here last month was a rehearsed aair with Lewis the predestined winner. Gamblers, he said, had taken away thousands of dollars in money wagered by Iowans, who thought Caddock a certain winner.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

Why Did Maj. Grantland Telegraph?

I blessed his thoughtfulness as I saw that his tall, massive figure standing between our door and the aisle effectually shut out any curious inspection of my faltering journey out of the door with Dicky's arms around me. I found that I was almost too weak to stand, but I managed to get around the corner into the corridor, where I found myself sinking into Dicky's arms, thoroughly spent.

"Here," I heard Maj. Grantland say roughly, "you must let me help you."

The next instant I felt myself lifted as if I were a baby and borne to the platform and down the train steps to a big limousine.

The fresh air revived me so that I was able to realize what was being done with me. I knew I was muffled from head to foot in the luxurious cloak Maj. Grantland had provided. Dicky, himself, had wrapped it around me when the train had drawn up to the station, and I felt like a bundled mummy as my husband and Major Grantland paused at the door of the limousine.

"Get in first," Major Grantland said tersely. "You can support her better."

"Can you manage?" Dicky countered.

"Absolutely."

I felt the arms of one man release me and those of the other clasp me closer. But I realized also, whimsically, that there was not the slightest touch of romance in either the situation or the minds of either my husband or the man of whom he occasionally fancied himself jealous. In this hurried, stressful moment, getting me into the limousine was simply a necessary task which must be performed in the shortest possible time.

Major Grantland lifted me through the door of the limousine as easily as if I had been Junior, and Dicky arranged me comfortably in the seat, leaning against him, with his arm around me. I put up my hand, drew the muffling folds of the cloak away from my face and saw that my mother-in-law, with Junior sleeping in her arms, was seated on the other side of me, and that my father was standing at the door nearest her, leaning across and gazing at me. I divined the anxiety which was consuming him, so I smiled encouragingly.

FOUR ANXIOUS FACES

"I am all right, now, father," I said, and his face brightened.

"You will be when you get into a Christian bed and have some sleep," my mother-in-law put in tartly, but with a kindly note in her voice. "Be sure you keep that cloak wrapped tight around her, Richard. She is in just the state to catch a bad cold, her vitality is so low."

"She's more likely to smother than to catch cold," Dicky grumbled. "Can't you feel the difference in the air? Why, it's like spring!"

Major Grantland struck into the conversation abruptly.

"It is spring—and has all the treachery of the season," he said authoritatively. "But as this car is closed I wouldn't keep her wrapped too warmly."

He turned to my father.

"If you'll just get in here with me," he said courteously. But there was a tenseness in his voice and manner that betrayed his haste to leave the spot and it set in motion again my wild surmises as to the torn telegram. As my father obeyed, the major sprang to the driver's seat and put his hands on the wheel.

"I will drive over myself, Sanders," he said to the man who evidently had brought the big car to the station, and was standing respectfully by it. "Please wait here for me. I'll pick you up on the way back. And—attend to that little matter for me, will you?"

ANOTHER CLOSED CAR

"Yes, sir, I'll see to it," the man replied with a quiet confidence in his manner that would have impressed the most unobservant person with his ability. As he spoke I saw that Major Grantland was watching him attentively, and that the man in return jerked his head toward another closed car with curtains down, which was stationed a little way from us, and had no indications of departure about it.

Major Grantland gave no sign of recognition of the man's gesture, but started the car and we glided away. We had to pass the other car as we went in order to leave the queer, T-shaped court of the station yard. As we did so I heard its engine starting.

"My word, Grantland," Dicky said lightly. "Do you keep men and motor cars strewn all over this country from Maine to Florida, from New York to San Francisco?"

"Not quite as bad as that," Major Grantland returned in the same tone. "I only plead guilty to the ownership of three cars—two in New York and this which I keep at Cedar Croft the year round. I'm a golf fiend, you know, and every chance I get I run down to the club here, which has one of the best courses in the world.

"And Sanders isn't my man in a sense. At least, I don't have to pay his salary. He is attached to the club, which is only a few miles from here. I'll pick him up on my way back tonight. Tomorrow morning I'll get in a little golf if I can manage it."

The Truth About Fiction Writing

H. Bedford-Jones.

THIS is the second of the Bedford-Jones series on writing fiction. No one is better qualified to tell the aspiring writer just what to do and what not to do. Bedford-Jones' work is regularly appearing in Blue Book, Adventure, Short Stories, Peoples', Telling Tales and other magazines, while in England much of his output is published by Cassel's Magazine. His latest book is being brought out this spring by Doubleday, Page & Co.

Chapter II

How to Go About It

You understand, I must assume that you know nothing about writing. Then you want to get all I can tell you from the ground up.

How, then, are you to go about following this alluring profession?

The rules are simple. First, get it out of your head that this is anything but a proposition of straightforward business. Tackle it just as you would a stenographic or a rate-clerk job. Time enough for the flowing neckties and moonshine after you can afford to make a fool of yourself.

Wasn't it Edison who so beautifully defined inspiration as "perspiration"? By this he meant more than he said. The man who makes out the daily schedule of cars in every Pullman office uses inspiration every minute. He has to know just where each car is, where it has been, the condition it is in, etc. That is inspiration. The ability to combine details of any sort, and the judgment that will set them to work coordinately.

Learn your job down to the ground—and you have inspiration. Then you may dream a perfect story. Why? Because you have been thinking and studying plot construction in your waking hours. One cannot get something for nothing in any business.

When you have faced the matter squarely, as a business proposition, what next? The details of the business, naturally.

Like any other profession or trade, writing has a multitude of branches, each of which demands special skill. You may be a railroader if you sell railroad tickets, but you are not an engineer. You may be a writer if you contribute to trade journals, or to fiction magazines, or to the courthouse column of a newspaper. You have to choose your branch.

How to choose it? You may fall into it naturally, but the chances are you will have to learn by experience. Perhaps only luck will show you the best use for your talents.

The best-paved avenue to writing is newspaper work. There is a definite, common-sense reason for this. A reporter is trained to the details of the business. The details of his business are words—just words. He is allowed so many words in which to tell his "story." He learns how to use one word here, another there, to best impress the reader. He learns how to make the value of his words count most.

Thus, the reporter tries his hand at fiction, with a big advantage. Words are the tools of the trade, and he has learned their use. He knows "how to write." That does not mean style, or good grammar; it means the use of words. He does not say: "The wonderful sun makes the flowers wonderful in the sunlight." He says: "The wonderful sun paints the flowers radiantly with his flaming brush."

Of course newspaper work is not an essential to writing fiction—not at all! It is just one way of learning the tools.

Another way is correspondence courses. About the value of these I know nothing. Then there are books on how to write. Books and courses can do one certain service. They can give you an idea of what constitutes a story. They can teach the rules of the game.

"Rules are made for those who cannot observe them." True! You may write a story that breaks every rule of the game—and make it a world-beater. Why is this? Because of your character, your individuality. It all comes back to this: If you have the stuff in you it is bound to show forth.

Learn the rules, by all means; learn them not by rote but by heart, so that you can obey them. Then forget them. Learn them so well that you can sit down and write a story by them. Then sit down and write your story by whatever rules you like. Once you can obey the laws instinctively, as a matter of course, you then begin to make new laws.

How to go about it? Read everything you can about writing. There are dozens of books about it. Then work at it. The only way we learn not to make mistakes is by making them. These books—any bookseller knows them—tell how to prepare manuscripts; which is, in effect, simply to type them double-space, leaving fair margins.

There is a knack about writing. You may admire the fellow who can sit down, offhand, and turn out a thousand words about something; just as you admire the traffic cop who steps up and separates a traffic jam in an instant. Nothing magic about it—just knowing the business. In other words, experience.

How is that bland truism going to benefit you? Has an amateur any chance of success in this game? Let's see.

Household Hints

DELICIOUS MUSHROOMS

Mushroom Pie

Prepare a pound of mushrooms and saute them in butter. A half-cupful will be needed. Season with the juice of an onion and of half a large lemon. Add pepper and salt. When done add a half pint of chestnut sauce and pour into a dish lined with pie crust. Add the top crust, and bake until the crust is done. Preceded by a split pea soup and followed by a light salad and dessert, no meat will be needed at this dinner.

Mushrooms Under Glass

Prepare the mushrooms, but do not remove the stems. Toast thick slices of bread cut in rounds. Butter the toast rounds and place the mushrooms, flaps down, on each slice. Dot with butter, dust with pepper and salt, and cover with the finger-glasses or bells. Set in the oven to cook for ten or twelve minutes. Serve at once, and do not remove the glasses until they are served.

Mushrooms and Virginia Ham

Melt one ounce of butter in a saute pan and put in two slices of Virginia ham. Fry one minute on each side, then remove to a hot plate. Have a pound of mushrooms already prepared and saute them in the hot pan. When cooked and beginning to brown, sprinkle with a tablespoonful of flour and blend in a pint of rich, hot milk or cream. Stir well, then lay the ham on top, cover and cook gently ten minutes. Place the ham on toast and over it turn the mushrooms and gravy. Garnish with sprays of fresh cress.

Mushroom Loaf

Make a pint of rich brown gravy from stock, and when ready add a pound of mushrooms carefully prepared. Season well and cook until the mushrooms are done. Have ready a baker's loaf of bread with the top sliced off and the bottom hollowed out like a box. Turn in the hot mushrooms, put on the lid, and serve at once. If liked, the saute may be wiped with a bud of garlic before the butter is melted. This gives a very delicate flavor to the dish.

Letters of Tessie & Joe.

DEAR TESSIE—

I wrote a nice letter to the boss today in reply to his many kind inquiries as to what was preventing me from sending more orders for Daisy Canned Soups, the so-called food. I pointed out to him that if I had some article to sell that I could conscientiously offer with pride instead of apologies I might be the means of putting more money in circulation, and he wrote a nice letter back saying any poor simp can sell an article like I mentioned, whereas he's looking for men with enough of the spirit of Napoleon and Penni about them to sell D. C. Soups with no other inspiration than the fact that they have the prettiest labels of any soup in tin captivity.

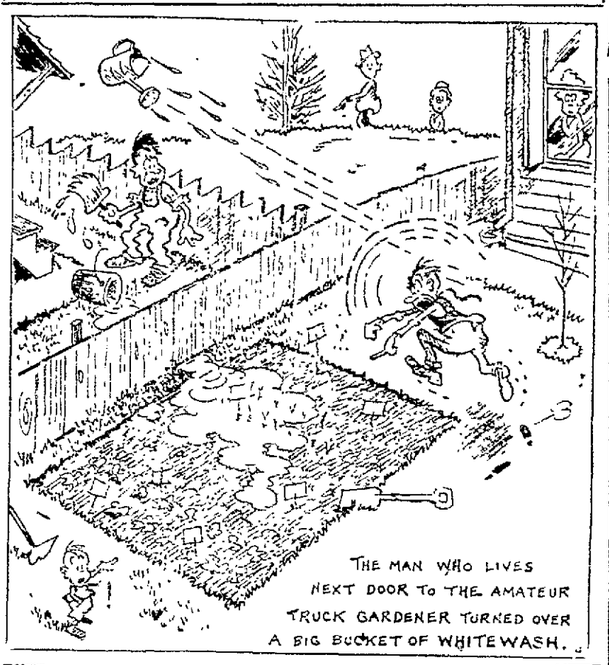

So I guess I'll have to turn on the old jazz juice and think up some novelties in the line of peppy selling arguments. I might work up a flock of statistics to show that in all our thirteen years of business not one death has been actually proved to have resulted from imbibing D. C. Soups. But in these days of efficiency the trade probably expects testimonials from hundreds of successful business men to the effect that drinking three cans of D. C. Soup gave them such courage that they rose from the gutter to the top offices of a forty-story skyscraper.

Give my regards to the baby. It's too bad he can't see me every day and gradually resign himself to me instead of getting a periodic shock every six months or so which might be bad for his nervous system.

Well, old better half, don't sit up for me. JOE.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE STRETCHY BALL

One day, when Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, not far from the hollow stump school, he met Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, and what do you think?

Baby Bunty was crying!

"Yes, just as true as I'm telling you, she was crying real, salty tears, that dribbled down off the end of her pink nose, which was just beginning to twinkle as did Uncle Wiggily's.

"Why, Baby Bunty! What's the matter?" asked the bunny rabbit gentleman. "Did a bad Wolf or Fox scare you?"

"No, Uncle Wiggily," Baby Bunty answered. "But in school today, the lady mouse teacher took away my stretchy ball."

"Your what?" cried the bunny gentleman.

"My stretchy ball," repeated Baby Bunty. "I had my stretchy ball out in school, and I was stretching it and making it come back to me and teacher took it away."

"Well, Baby Bunty," spoke the rabbit gentleman kindly, "of course, just having started school as you have, in the kindergarten class, you can't be expected to know as much as the older children. But I must tell you that school is a place for learning your lessons, and not for playing with stretchy rubber balls, as you call them."

"I—I know it," Baby Bunty sobbed. "I won't do it again. But, oh, I just loved my stretchy ball, Uncle Wiggily."

"What in the world is a stretchy ball?" asked the bunny gentleman, looking at Baby Bunty. After he had given her a few lessons on making letters from toothpicks, as I told you last night, the little rabbit girl had gone to school.

"A stretchy ball," said Baby Bunty, "is a rubber one, and it's fastened on the end of a long, thin piece of rubber. You throw the ball away, the long rubber stretches away out, the ball bounces, then the long rubber unstretches and the ball comes back to you."

"Oh, so that's what a stretchy ball is, eh?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes," answered Baby Bunty. "And I took my stretchy ball out in the hollow stump school, and the lady mouse teacher saw me and she made me give her my nice ball—boo hoo!"

Baby Bunty was crying again! What do you think of that? But then she was a very little rabbit girl, you know.

"Never mind, my dear," said Uncle Wiggily kindly, as he wiped her salty tears away on his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch. "It was wrong, of course, for you to play with your stretchy ball in school. But as long as you didn't know it, and as you are never going to do it again—why—come with me to the three and four cent store and I'll buy you another ball."

"Oh, fine!" cried Baby Bunty, clapping her paws.

Along she hopped with Uncle Wiggily to the toy store, and soon she had another "stretchy ball," as she called it. In the hole of the rubber ball was fastened a long, thin elastic. One end of this was tied to Baby Bunty's wrist. And when she tossed away her stretchy ball, the rubber "unstretching" as the little rabbit girl called it, pulled the ball back to her so she caught it.

"Now I can have some fun!" laughed Baby Bunty.

She was bouncing her stretchy ball along the woodland path when, all of a sudden, there was a rustling in the bushes, and out popped the Fuzzy Fox.

"Wuff! Wuff!" howled the bad Fox, as he saw Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty. "This is my lucky day!"

"And our unlucky one!" sadly said Mr. Longears. "What are you going to do, good Mr. Fox?"

"I'm not good Mr. Fox! I'm bad, and I'm going to nibble your ears!" was the answer.

"Oh, but first let's have a game of ball! Tag! You're it!" suddenly cried Baby Bunty. She threw the stretchy ball at the Fox. It hit him on the end of his soft and tender nose. But when he put up his paw to catch the ball, it bounced away, back to Baby Bunty.

He tried with both paws to get the ball.

"What's the idea?" asked the Fox, exasperated like.

"Tag again!" answered Baby Bunty, who was the liveliest little rabbit girl you ever saw. "Tag! You're it!"

Again she threw the stretchy ball at the Fox. It hit him on the ear, but when he tried to grab the ball it bounced back to Baby Bunty.

"Here! Give me that ball!" howled the bad chap. Again the rabbit girl threw it, hitting the Fox on the head. And when he tried, with both paws, to get the ball, it quickly stretched back to Baby Bunty.

"Oh, this is a trick! This is a magic fairy ball! It will give me bad luck! I'd better run away!" howled the Fox, and away he ran. Baby Bunty's stretchy ball had saved her and Mr. Longears.

So everything came out all right, and if the rice pudding doesn't hop out of the oven and hide down cellar when the mince pie wants to go to the moving pictures, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the dandelions.

Songs of Frank L. Stanton

Little Hands

Dear little hands that toil
In life's dim ways and lone;
Hands that are sweet and fair
For all the toiling
there.
With a beauty
all their own.

Dear lips that sweetly sing
In a wild world's unrest;
The linnet's throat
Sounds not a note
So beautiful—so blest.

Dear little heart that thrills
With rapture all divine;
Teach us the way—
To work—to pray,
And never to repine!

TOGETHER.

Just where the country's tending—
Or if for good or ill,
We know not; but, unbending,
We're with the country still!

Just Folks

OTHERS

We need the lives of others to make our own complete,
It takes the smiles of neighbors to light our humble street;
And all the joys we treasure would cold and sordid be
Unless another waited to share our victory.

For on a desert island where man must live alone,
Though heaped with gold and silver which he could call his own,
The stuff would lose its value and he would cease to care,
And he would sigh for someone with whom his wealth to share.

Fame were an empty glory without the friends who praise,
From others comes the splendor which crowns the toil of days;
There's none so great or humble but what at night must find
That with the lives of many, his life is intertwined.

We must have kindly neighbors, we must have loyal friends,
On them and all they give us the joy of life depends;
The thing called Self is trifling, it makes success, defeat;
We need the lives of others to make our lives complete.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Dear Geraldine.

Reading the "big page" again, and all about "sheltered girl" too, I think you may like one's opinion on the subject who was once "a sheltered girl." Also I feel I can realize that girl's mind somewhat, and I do feel sorry for her and her false ideas and ideals. I feel it is a case of mock modesty to some extent, false morals. What is worse, she mentions children and about her detesting the part men have in their lives.

Now Jerry, this is my opinion of course, but I hope it may be worthy of printing. I am married now Jerry and have a "pal husband" five years my senior. We are both happily awaiting an interesting bird's arrival, the stork, soon. Jerry I cannot express in mere words "our" longing and love for our expectant "tiny." How can "sheltered girl" at her age have such feelings? She is very ignorant, she does not see above material things.

Now Jerry, as I was at one time filled with this "innocent" idea and by a woman much older than I, I was taught men were "few" who did not prey upon women, but though I am quite young I have learned that men who prey are the scarce ones and they are often beguiled by some painted and flimsy dressed miss who thinks it "cute" to lead them on. I can't see why girls expect to be treated with respect when they show no respect for themselves and their dress, I hope, Jerry, I am not wrong in my opinions, and am certainly willing for any advice I can get for my own good.

I am not a girl who sees all evil, but Geraldine I certainly was taught false ideals, one for instance is that a girl expecting to become a mother should not go about in public, and although I have learned the real truth about many of my false morals, I am in doubt as to that question above. I want your sincere (and I am sure I'll get it) advice, Jerry. I certainly want to be told if I'm wrong, and why, so I can correct myself in my mistakes.

"Sheltered girl" had better get busy and study a few of God's laws and commands, that is how I overcame a lot of my wrong ideas. You may be glad to know that a few more silly notions of mine were hacked off the board by Jerry's lectures and good advice. I think too many write you for advice when they mean praise or approval, and these same people are peeved when they are told the truth. I must close, Jerry, and hope that there is some good in this letter and also sense. It is just a little bit of everything, but some of it may help girls like "Sheltered girl." I liked most of the answers sent in about her, too.

I've also noticed that several who disagree with you, and I'll never forget the one who said your aired "dirty linen," are the ones who can't stand the truth.

I sure love you Jerry and your columns, too, with their bit of humor here and there. I wish you all luck and happiness.

AURILLA.

A New Viewpoint

That is a letter which once upon a time would not have been printed—for the same reason that once upon a time an expectant mother was supposed to stay in unhealthy seclusion "for modesty's sake." There may be those who do not approve of its being printed now. To such I say—MOTHERHOOD IS SACRED IN THIS COLUMN. And all that goes to uplifting and helping motherhood is sacred—from the guiding and purifying of a young girl's first puzzled dreams, to the possible comforting of the old souls who have been left alone by selish, thoughtless children. I am glad for little Aurilla's happiness and I want you all to be glad with me. The more we have of such proud, fine motherhood the greater nation this will be.

About Short Skirts

My dearest Jerry:

Prepare yourself! For I am about to explode. I had the delightful pleasure of reading the satirical poem written by J. Gordon Temple. Oh! how my blood did boil. Now Jerry, you know that was a downright mean thing to write. Men make me sick always yelling about we poor girls. It seems to me that's all they look for, anyway. If they weren't they wouldn't see so much. And if they don't like it they don't have to look, nobody cares.

I'm a high school girl Jerry, and I do wear my skirts short. Of course my ankles, shins and calves show, but I'll tell you I don't do it for any of the vile reasons he stated. I don't do it because I want them to stop and stare. Far from it. But a young girl looks and feels much better in short skirts and its her privilege to do so, if she wishes to. The women of today aren't a bit more shocking, considering the times, than their grandmothers. The short skirts of today aren't any more shocking than those hoop skirts and not half as suggestive as the long pantaloons.

If some of the creatures of this world would look for the cleaner, sweeter part of life, they would be much better off. Anybody with any "horse sense" could see that short skirts are more becoming and appropriate for young girls. Who wants to see the young people of our country trodden down with skirts dragging the ground? Where would the life and pep go? —to the bottom of the earth, dragging, like the skirts! And I'm sure none of the modern girls are pining away for the lack of some one to marry. It's all Tommy-rot, and you'll find just as many true blue girls in short skirts as those who wore the Martha Washington.

Please get in, Jerry, and help us. You believe in us, don't you? We don't do it for any such reasons as have been stated and it seems to me a downright crime that a girl can't go down the street without being criticized and flirted with by every street lizard in town.

Sincerely,

BETTY.

I'm entirely with you as far as those short skirts go, Betty. I don't think, however, that I agree with you in thinking them universally becoming. In that fact lies their very safety as regards public morals. A good majority of the legs exposed will do far more toward stilling heart throbs than towards starting them. There are no two words about the comfort and convenience of short skirts and in a very short time their very commonness will make them unnoticed.

But short skirts are not the only "lizard" attraction, my dear—I DO NOT admire the other contemporary styles. The girl who beads her eyelashes, rouges heavily, wears the thinnest georgette crepe waists with a full exposure of her camisole, and does her hair in the extreme puff is going to receive exactly the glance which a "street walker" would receive—and she deserves to—for she is dressing in that way for exactly the same cheap and unpleasant motives that make a street walker dress the way she does—to attract the attention of men.

Those are strong words—and I wish I might make them stronger. I'm not a prude—and I believe in the prettiest clothes possible. But I think many of the present styles of decoration are the height of bad taste.

Babies Out At Night

Dearest Jerry:

Have been a reader of your column for some time. Your advice has helped me very much. Have been reading your column almost every night regular now, and have agreed with almost every one so far, so good. I don't seem to quite agree with C. E. Bartlett on the subject he had tonight about babies being out nights. There may be a reason. As I am a married woman and have a child of my own so I know. Have had my baby out late at night already. This is the only time that father has any chance to take his wife and children anywhere. May be they have no relations to leave them with, and do not wish to leave them with nursemaids or neighbors. There are few mothers who treat their babies like he stated.

I cannot complain at all because baby is so good the next day, just the same as the day before, have very little trouble with him. The mother cannot keep herself locked in the house all the time. She must get out. A man does not know the task a woman has. I believe he would run away before he were half through. Do not think me a crab nor a grouch—as I am neither. Keep up the good work Jerry.

BUSYBODY BEE.

Listen, World!

When I'm about to say a very rude thing I like to use a foreign proverb. It adds color to your impudence as it were and flummoxes you with an air, in case they desire to punch your nose. Also they probably won't be able to figure out what it means until you're safely around the corner, by which time it's too late to call the police.

I mention this because I am about to say a rude thing in a foreign language about Marbee Jawne Mulvanhee.

She used to be plain Mary Jane Mulvaney until her dad struck oil. Then things underwent a general reconstruction. Her red hair became auburn. Instead of skinny, she was svelte. She learned a smattering of French and a spattering of ukelele. She began to wear negligees decorated in batik instead of kimonos decorated in scrambled egg, and to smoke monogrammed cigarettes with exactly the right accent on the little finger.

Yep, a mint of money has been spent on Marbee Jawne Mulvanhee since her dad struck oil. She ought to land the family right in front with this year's models of the Classiest Human Speedsters. And yet—

Right now is where I'm going to get rude in that foreign language. Across the border in Mexico, where they've been wise to Humans for so many centuries, they have a saying that applies nicely to many of our folks in these get-cultured-quick days. It particularly applies to Marbee with her batiked negligees and her monogrammed cigarettes. This is the saying—

"La mona aunque se vista de seda, mona se queda."

And it means—You may dress a monkey in silk, but it is always a monkey.

How to Solve Problem

I like your letter, dear, but for that baby's sake PLEASE don't keep him out late at night. Even though he gets exactly the same amount of sleep the next day, you have done him a very great harm. A growing child's nervous system does not only need a certain amount of sleep, but it needs it at ABSOLUTELY REGULAR HOURS. If you disturb that regularity you give that little system a nervous shock which will result gravely in time.

A housewife's job IS hard and infinitely irritating. No woman can stay normal and serene under its constant nagging unless she works out a sensible program and adheres to it. I think that every wife and mother who does her own work should have at least two nights every week, "out"—entirely away from the problems and worries of home. And the husband should have the same freedom. For the children's sake it is often impossible for them to spend these play evenings together. And indeed, I think that for their own sakes it is inadvisable.

Marriage would be a much happier and fresher experience if folks didn't see each other quite so constantly. So play the 50-50 game. Let Hubby stay with the kiddies while Wife goes out and vice-versa. That need not mean monotonous evenings for the one at home. If the children are trained to early bed hours, there is the long evening left for good times with friends. And ANY child can be trained to keep early, regular hours if you set yourself to it.

A Word of Praise

Wouldn't you love your jobs, Folks, if you received letters like this:

Dear Jerry:

Your part in the paper certainly is a wonder. I especially buy The TRIBUNE to read the Jerry Columns and, believe me, I never read anything more entertaining, but what should a person do with those everlasting joy-killers. I notice that once in a while you get a few who would like to change the whole universe and are always finding fault with everything; and of course they don't approve of your Columns, but you should worry, Jerry, they have to have something to growl about. Keep up the good work, Jerry, we're all for you.

A PAL.

I am very glad to publish the following:

Dear Jerry:

Your love for humans is so great that I'm sure you love helpless animals, too. Some few days ago a store was closed, the owner passed away, and there was no one to take charge. Some kind friend put a bouquet of roses on the door. However a poor cat is in the window starving for want of food and water. No doubt he has not been thought of by the hundreds who daily pass the store. Won't you please let people know of the Society for the Prevention for Cruelty to Animals?—Fruitvale 1125. The above case has just been reported to them by

A LOVER OF ANIMALS.

Indeed I do love animals, my friend—and I hope this word may in some way help the lot of "our little friends."

To Scamp—I did not print your letter, dear, for I feared that the publication of the trouble might make more unhappiness for you in that neighborhood. I am indeed very, very sorry for it all. I do hope that happier days come soon—and I will you please feel that Jerry is your friend and write to her whenever you are lonely?

To Annoyed—Dear Pal, I do not think I have ever read a sadder letter. I think you have been wonderfully brave and sweet and I want to try to help you if there is any possible way. I am just as sorry for the big husband as I am for you, for I am quite sure that his brain is affected. The war did dreadful things to men. Even where there were not indications of shell shock or gas poisoning the effects of the horrors seen upon the nervous systems were so great as to completely unbalance the sufferer. I am quite sure that this is what has happened to your husband. Have you secretly consulted a physician? I would advise you to do so.

T. N. B.—If your 14-year-old friend has read [illegible] say she has, she must have seen all the contributions and "lectures" about girls who try to act as vamps. Aside from good or bad, it is actually harmful for a 14-year-old girl to indulge her growing emotions the way you say your little friend does. She is maturing too swiftly along one line of her character at the expense of her sweet girlhood and innocence. Why not ask her to write to me. I will give her my best advice in a letter just to her.

DIVORCE-BATTLE PERJURY CHARGE FAILS ON APPEAL

Mistake Wins Freedom for Shipyard Foreman and Law Prevents Re-arrest.

Word from the appellate court in San Francisco that Frank D. Williams, foreman at the Southern Pacific shipyards on the estuary and accused of perjury in connection with the alleged "railroading" of his wife to an insane asylum, has been ordered set free was received by Attorney A. J. Woolsey this morning.

The former wife, Mrs. Annabelle Williams, who had been divorced by Williams, charged that her husband had had her sent to an asylum in order that he might marry another woman, his present wife.

HUSBAND MADE CHARGES.

A feature of the case, which abounded in sensations, was that Williams replied with the same charge against his former wife that she had made against him. He declared she had secured a divorce from her first husband, John Kelly, an Alameda county while Kelly was an inmate of a Kansas asylum, where he later died.

It was alleged that Mrs Williams, then Mrs. Kelly, had charged her husband with desertion, the date charged as the time of desertion being the day on which he was committed to the hospital for the insane.

BASIS OF PERJURY CASE.

The charge of perjury against Williams was based on the allegation that in serving summons on his wife by publication he had sworn he did not know where she was. Woolsey says Mrs. Williams could not be charged with perjury in connection with the Kelly divorce as the alleged offense had been outlawed.

The action of the appellate court was on a writ of habeas corpus filed by Woolsey and Attorneys Ford and Johnson of San Francisco on the ground that Committing Magistrate Sylvester McAtee had erred in proceeding with the preliminary hearing in the absence of Judge J. J. Sullivan, who had heard part of the testimony, without hearing the evidence from the beginning.

Attorneys Woolsey and Elliott Johnson argued this before the appellate court and Justice Richards said there was no question that this was error, but the decision was delayed because of another point raised by the opposition.

FREEDOM FOR WILLIAMS.

The ruling, it is stated, means permanent freedom for Williams, since he cannot be arrested again, as the original charge is now outlawed.

The divorce decree granted to Williams was set aside by the superior court of Alameda county on the ground that Mrs. Williams was in the asylum at the time. The decision is on appeal to the supreme court. Woolsey says if the final decision declares the divorce decree invalid he will have the marriage annulled on the ground that Mrs. Williams' first divorce was illegal.

TRIBUNE BUREAU READY MONDAY TO ANSWER QUERIES

All Questions of a General Nature Will Be Decided by Mail or Phone.

"Ask The TRIBUNE"

Are you trying to decide to the fraction of an inch the distance that should separate the fringe of your skirt from the ground, according to the latest dictum of Dame Fashion?

Are you interested, as a collector of rare coins, in a certain Roman copper coin dated B. C. 6, or some other question equally remote from the every-day problems of Broadway or the city hall?

Perhaps the city hall houses the elements that pique your particular brand of curiosity. Possibly you would like to know the mayor's salary, or the date when some official was inducted into office.

In any case, "Ask The TRIBUNE."

Beginning Monday, The TRIBUNE will inaugurate an Information Bureau which will answer these and other questions of a general nature, such as are coming up every day for solution.

Obviously it is out of the question to answer queries of a too personal nature, such as the age of Miss So-and-So. Legal and school problems will be barred also, and the Information Bureau will decline to give the time of day.

But if you are looking for information concerning the various departments of the Army and Navy, the distinguishing marks showing the different ranks of officers; if you wish to learn the names of the principal newspapers in certain towns; if, in short, you are in search of any fact that comes under the head of general information, "Ask The TRIBUNE."

Queries will be answered both by telephone and by mail. In cases where replies are desired by letter, be sure and enclose stamps and write your name and address plainly. Final steps in perfecting the system of procuring and disseminating general information will be completed Monday, May 9, after which date information seekers, whether subscribers to The TRIBUNE or not, are advised to "Ask The TRIBUNE" Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

Grain Exchange Plan Discussed At Conference

Commerce Chamber Committee Expected to Report in Few Days.

The Chamber of Commerce committee which is headed by E. S. Tanner, it is expected, will shortly report to the directors of the chamber with reference to the project but no details will be given out until that report has been made and considered.

Farm Bureau conferees said today that they proposed to leave publicity to the Chamber of Commerce.

In their own opertions, the cooperating farmers have prepared to handle millions of dollars worth of grain through Oakland, from which inference is to be drawn as to the magnitude of the exchange proposition.

MOVIE THRILLER CREATES BANDIT FOR SMALL BOY

Imagination, a movie and fear of a scolding because he fell and tore his clothes, led 13-year-old John Buck, 486 Lincoln avenue, to "create" a masked bandit whom he declared pursued him down a lonely road and stabbed him with a poisoned needle.

Last night John attended the last of a thriller at a near-by theater and at about 9 o'clock was on his way home up Lincoln avenue filled with visions of bandits with guns and knives in the bushes beside the road.

Then, he told the police, he fell, scratching his arm and tearing his clothes. It occurred to him that, if a bandit had caused the trouble instead of the prosaic fall that he would be met with sympathy instead of a scolding at home, so his imagination supplied the thrill which aroused his parents and called the police.

TELEGRAPH AVE. TO BE ZONED

BERKELEY, May 7.—Whether Telegraph avenue south of Dwight way shall be changed from a business to residential area will be decided by members of the council at a public hearing set for May 17 at the city hall.

Recommendations that the thoroughfare be changed from its present zoning in Class Five, allowing all kinds of business buildings, to Class Two, providing merely for one and two-family dwellings, and "light" business buildings, were presented to the council yesterday by the city planning commission. Objections to the change were voiced by council members. The avenue in the district specified can never be anything but a business street, say Councilmen Charles D. Heywood and George Schmidt.

Youth Asks for Loan; Held for Stealing Auto

SAN JOSE, May 7.—Fred W. Hiller of San Diego, 25 years old, is under arrest at the city prison here today following an attempt on his part to borrow money at the local American Legion headquarters for the purpose of buying gasoline for his machine, which, developments brought forth, he had stolen from San Diego.

Officers from the southern city are expected to arrive here tonight to claim their prisoner. Hiller confessed after being brought to the police office. He could give no reason for his theft of the automobile other than that he wanted to reach San Francisco and "had no other way."

A black mask was a part of Hiller's belongings. He declared today, however, that this mask was merely one which he had used at masquerade balls in San Diego.

The steel trap was invented in 1704.

"Our Mothers" Is Theme of Presbyterian Church Pastor

By REV. FRANK M. SIDLEY,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church.

"And she brought forth her first-born Son" and Mary was a great mother. But our mothers are just as wonderful. Their soft blue or brown or gray eyes look so sweetly and heavenly at us and we are willing to brave the assembled universe and declare them the greatest of all mothers.

There is something divine about our instinct and love for our mothers. The man or woman never quite become the brute until they kill their mother-love. When mother-love is gone we are hopelessly lost.

The last few turbulent years have brought some disappointment and certain retrograde tendencies, but a wave of bright coloring has been the revival of tender memories for our mothers.

The storm of war and the restless times of peace have urged us to turn to the mother heart for comfort. We see the mother's great mission to her boys and girls so clearly now. It is to "baby" them, for the biggest and oldest of us are still her children wanting the mother touch of cheer, and care and comfort and sacrifice.

The last thought of the dying soldier is "Mother," for he thinks that God can help him then only through his mother and no one else.

Visualize your own mother at this time. Take a whole day off and keep it sacred to your mother—living or dead. For I can see her burning the incense of sacrifice for you. I can see her staying up all night to nurse you as a child. I can see her staying at home and denying social functions, for she was caring for you. I can see her take the money your father gave her to purchase a new suit for herself, and buying you a suit or dress instead. I can see her with her look of glorious satisfaction when you graduated and her great solemn eyes when you married and left.

As Edgar Guest says, "Never a sigh for the cares that she bore for me; never a thought of the joys that flew by; her one regret that she couldn't do more for me; thoughtless and selfish, her master was I."

As you turn the pages of tonight's TRIBUNE, remember that the most vital news to you is in the advertising pages. To the man thinking of buying a car tomorrow's Used Car Ads will bear a special message—the news of where to buy to advantage. So does Wednesday's paper.

PRECINCT PLANS TO GET OUT 100 PER CENT VOTE

Patriotism Is Motive of Club Organized in "Go-to-the-Polls" Move.

"Go to the polls!"

With this as their slogan, One Hundred Percent Voters' Club No. 1 was organized last night in Precinct No. 125 at the home of Harry Holcomb, Athol and Chicago avenues. The aims and ideals of the organization, which is described as a patriotic voting club, is to bring to the polls at every election all persons eligible to vote, thus making an election a genuine expression of the will of the majority.

Among the speakers was George E. Randolph, formerly a member of the Board of Education. One of the first official actions of the club was adopting a decision to send out a letter urging all voters in the precinct to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. The speakers all emphasized the importance of the ballot and of the duty imposed upon every voter to exercise the rights which are his under the franchise.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS.

Here are the members of the executive committee: George E. Randolph, president; Judge W. H. Donahue, Mrs. Mary L. Seely and W. F. D. Brown, vice-presidents; Harry L. Holcomb, secretary, 360 Chicago avenue; Harry E. Jacobus, treasurer. The directors are: William Nat Friend, Mrs. C. H. Taylor, Roy A. Dunann, George S. Meredith, H. Avery Whitney and Mrs. Fannie C. Beebe.

The letter which was drafted at the organization meeting of the club, to be sent to the voters of the precinct, follows in part:

"The undersigned registered voters in our precinct (125) have come to the conclusion it is time a movement be started which will, we hope, finally obtain at all elections practically 100 per cent of the registered voters.

STARTLING FIGURES.

"Voting statistics disclose the startling fact that only from 15 per cent to 60 per cent of all registered voters elect to use their voting rights!

"Therefore we have agreed at once to organize a Voters' 100 Per Cent Club in our precinct in order that at the coming important city election on May 10 next an actual showing be made.

"Our committee will therefore prepare a roll of membership, the names of which will be copied from the voters' register.

"Please remember this organization is not to be political—as such—but a patriotic one, the cornerstone of which shall be 100 per cent voting strength at all elections.

CERTIFICATE PLAN.

"It is therefore our idea to perfect a plan which will have to do with the issuing of a membership certificate to all organized precinct 100 per cent voters' clubs in numerical order of their application for membership.

"Many vital questions are to arise from time to time.

"We therefore earnestly feel the time has come for a peace time patriotism and equal to our wartime loyalty.

"Finally, if you are in the city on May 10 next and are physically able to vote, do it early and avoid delay. Also cheerfully pass the 100 per cent word to your voting neighbor to do likewise."

The letter is signed by a charter committee. The missive concludes with the suggestion that if the voter needs auto service, it can be obtained by telephoning to any of the signers of the letter.

That the organization is not political, either in an individual or a partisan sense, is emphasized by its sponsors. The idea was evolved with the idea of bringing out a majority vote. Precinct 125 is bounded by Park Boulevard, Trestle Glen, Haddon Road, Brooklyn avenue and Newton avenue.

The letter drafted by the organization is now in the mail so that every voter may receive his or her copy in ample time to respond to the inspiration of the "Go to the polls" movement.

Tulare Schools Head Held On Girl Charge

TULARE, May 7. — J. B. Weed, district superintendent of the Tulare grammar schools, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Court Smith on a charge of high misdemeanor and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The warrant for Weed's arrest was sworn to by W. R. Carter of Tulare, and alleges that Weed "maintained improper conduct" toward young girls in his charge.

Justice Ward G. Rush fixed his bail at $5000 cash and Weed was released. Weed came here from Dinuba three years ago. He had supervision of the three grammar schools in Tulare, but tendered his resignation to the school board a few weeks ago. In accepting his resignation, the board gave Weed a high recommendation. It is understood that the board will suspend him pending the outcome of the charges against him.

Big Power Plant On Feather River Goes Into Service

MISS ELEANOR FLEISHHACKER

World's Record in Transmission Voltage Set When Valve Is Released.

CARIBOU POWER PLANT, Plumas County, Cal., May 7. — Opening a small valve here today in the Great Western Power Company's big new Caribou power house on the Feather river, Miss Eleanor Fleishhacker, daughter of Mortimer Fleishhacker, president of the company, released powerful forces that sent a world's record transmission voltage of 165,000 volts flashing over in-thick aluminum cables to the San Francisco bay district and insure Northern California against another power shortage such as existed during the last three years.

Miss Fleishhacker's act released 59,000 additional horsepower to California's farms, homes, industries, mines and railroads; placed in operation a $15,500,000 project on which an average force of 2000 men worked for 23 months and closed the second stage of a construction program along the Feather river which contemplates five more such projects at an additional outlay of $200,000,000.

More than a hundred state officials, bankers, business men, engineers, farmers and representatives of the company from Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento and other cities witnessed the opening of the plant.

When Miss Fleishhacker turned the valve four 11-inch streams of water, with an impact of 190,000 pounds, were thrown against four immense impulse wheels, each of which is equipped with 26 buckets, each bucket weighing 1000 pounds. The two giant generators started whirling with the water wheels, producing hydro-electric energy at 11,000 volts which is transformed to the world's record of 165,000 volts.

Political Notes

The final rally of the Hempstead-Anderson club was held at headquarters last night. Addresses were made by Emmet Hart, Phil Carey, Frank Schnepple, F. E. Stewart, J. H. Montgomery and L. B. Magoon.

Senator Anderson and H. T. Hempstead made an extensive campaign tour last night filling th following program: Anderson-Hempstead meeting at McChesney school, a whist party given by Mrs. Bundock at Odd Fellows' hall in East Oakland, the Oakland Motorcycle club at Magnolia hall in West Oakland, a whist party at the home of Mrs. Richard Hammond on Eighth street, Woodmen of the World in Fruitvale, meeting of U. P. E. C. at I. D. E. hall in East Oakland, finishing with a visit to the Moose club.

Four thousand employees of the Moore shipyard turned out at noon yesterday to greet Albert E. Carter and Frank Colbourn, candidates for commissioners No. 2 and No. 1. It was the most enthusiastic reception yet accorded the candidates. The workers had their own band play music dedicated to Carter and Colbourn. Several of their own number spoke. Mayor John L. Davie also spoke.

For the first time in its history the Compass club, meeting in an assembly room in Odd Fellows hall, endorsed political candidates—Carter and Colbourn. The candidates closed the day yesterday with talks at the Elmhurst car barns and the Allendale school.

The public schools welfare committee, which is urging the election of Eugene A. Young and George W. Hatch for school directors next Tuesday, today issued a call emphasizing the importance of the voters going to the polls. "For once in Oakland's history let us have majority rule," the committee says. "All registered voters should go to the polls. Let us not have a sixty per cent or a seventy or even an eighty per cent vote but make it a hundred per cent."

George W. Randolph, formerly a member of the board of education and who has always taken an active interest in educational matters, as chairman of the public school welfare committee, said today:

"There are at the present time on the board of education four members who live east of Lake Merritt. This number includes Eugene A. Young, whom we have endorsed for re-election. Because 65 per cent of the population of Oakland lives east of Lake Merritt is a good argument for keeping Young on the board, aside from his many other qualifications. We are being assured daily by hundreds of men and women who have the best interests of the schools at heart of the heartiest support for Young and Hatch. The people realize that the oard of education is a very important business institution and requires business men of the highest type to handle the expenditures of this department."

A large meeting of the East Oakland supporters of the Colbourn and Carter ticket was held last evening at their headquarters, 609 East Twelfth street. Representatives from each of the eighty-seven precincts of East Oakland were present. Plans were made for an active canvass of the district, speeches were made by Geo. S. Pierce, J. E. Hood, Mrs. William R. King, J. W. Baughman, Mrs. Anna Atkins, H. C. Grimes, Mrs. H. D. Perry, C. B. Duncan and others.

PACKER FLEET IS BESET BY STORM; ONE SAILOR LOST

One Vessel Returns for Repairs; Others Reported Having Rough Voyage.

Battling with a storm for more than 48 hours, during which time Oscar Anderson of Alameda, one of her crew, lost his life and the lives of 125 others were in peril, the bark Star of Peru of the Alaska Packers' association, is back in San Francisco bay shorn of her sails and with her upper rigging badly damaged.

The battered ship arrived late yesterday after she had been picked up twenty miles outside the harbor by the tug Sea Eagle and towed into the station at China Basin. She is under command of Captain E. A. Bertelson.

BATTLE WITH STORM.

With the return of the Star of Peru there came confirmation of the belief that four other ships of the Alaska Packers' fleet had encountered rough weather. According to members of the crew the Star of Greenland and the Llewellyn J. Morse, which sailed on May 3, were battling the seas when sighted by the Star of Peru, which was then returning to port under improvised sails. The C. A. Thayer, which sailed on May 1, is also thought to have encountered rough seas, but no word from her has been received.

The Star of Peru sailed from her berth on the Oakland estuary on May 2 for Kvichak, Alaska, loaded with cannery supplies and carrying a crew of 50 men and 80 cannery workers, all Chinese. When the vessel was 180 miles off the coast and 200 miles north of Point Bonita she encountered a severe northwest gale.

When the storm was at its height Oscar Anderson, who is registered from Alameda, and John Watson, another sailor, went up on the mast. Giant waves washed over the ship and carried Anderson into the sea. Watson fought desperately and managed to cling to the rigging. Anderson was not seen again.

48-HOUR STRUGGLE.

For 48 hours the rough sea tossed and battered the bark. Then calmer weather was encountered and the crew spread emergency sails and started back for port. Repairs are being made and another start will be made within a few days.

The Star of Peru is of 1027 tons register and was built at Sunderland, England, in 1863. She was christened the Himalays and flew the British flag. She was later placed under the Hawaiian flag by the same name. When the United States took over the islands she was sold to the Alaska Packers, when her name was changed to the Star of Peru.

Hotel Man Is Near Death in Runaway Smash

Dr. J. Criswell Suffers Broken Back in Accident Near Los Gatos.

SAN JOSE, May 7.—Dr. J. Criswell, proprietor of Wake Robin Inn, near Los Gatos, was still in a serious condition this morning as the result of terrible injuries sustained in a runaway accident near his home. His spine is fractured and one vertabrae dislocated, according to information received from O'Connor sanitarium, where he was rushed by ambulance following the accident.

Criswell was driving a team of horses toward Wake Robin Inn last evening when the team suddenly became frightened and ran away. The wagon was overturned, the driver thrown with great force to the hard roadway. He was picked up a few moments later by a passing autoist. It was stated tonight that the Los Gatos man will be paralyzed for life by the accident. Some fears were expressed that he might not recover from the injuries, particularly because of the fracture of the spine.

Ready to Go to Jail, Pays Fine, Is Freed

BERKELEY, May 7. — W. H. Colbur, electrician employed at the Mare Island Navy Yard, was a surprised man this morning.

Promptly at 9 o'clock he appeared before Judge Robert Edgar. He carried a suitcase with him.

"All right, judge, I'm ready to go to jail now," he smiled. "I've got everything I need with me and I've arranged things so that I won't lose my job."

When Colbur on Monday was convicted of speeding the judge declared his intention of sending him to jail. Colbur asked for time to arrange his business matters and the judge agreed. He re-appeared this morning to receive his sentence. Officer George Kohler charged him with going 45 miles per hour.

"You are sentenced," said the judge, "to a fine of $20 or two days in the county jail, with your license suspended for 30 days."

Colbur paid his fine, picked up his suitcase and left for Vallejo.

Two Injured in Auto Smash on State Highway

Magazine Representative Is Pinned Under Cover When Tire Blows Out.

SAN JOSE, May 7.—George T. Donaldson of Fresno and Frank T. Zurich of Stockton, traveling in the interests of a proposed fruit magazine, were cut and bruised and suffered shock in an automobile accident occurring shortly before 8 o'clock last night on the State highway, six miles south of this city.

Driving, they claim, at a slow rate of speed, the men suddenly spurted ahead in passing another machine. Just as they forged ahead a front tire blew out, the wheel at the same moment having hit the soft dirt at the left of the highway. The combination resulted in throwing the car, a light machine, in such manner as to overturn it. Both men were pinned beneath the up-turned car momentarily, but managed by their own strength to extricate themselves from the wreck.

Both men were treated at a local private sanitarium, but were allowed to go on their way last night.

TIME NOT RIPE FOR WORLD TRADE RUSSIANS' VIEW

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 6 (By Associated Press).—Soviet Russia is bent on opening up commerce with the world, Dr. Koudish, Russian soviet representative in Constantinople, said today. He feared, however, that the present time was unpropitious as, in his opinion, the manufacturing countries had an over-supply and would be unable to buy and use the raw materials Russia might be able to produce.

"I have been instructed constantly to delay in buying as prices are sure to go lower," Dr. Koudish continued. "However, we rapidly are organizing trade exchanges with Soviet Russia. The steamer Lucia has just returned from Novorossick with a cargo valued at $400,000. Also, on April 22, I signed a $3,000,000 contract with a group of French firms for all sorts of merchandise, to be delivered at Novorssik.

"We have received an offer from a firm in the United States for manganese deposits from Soviet Georgia. We expect to satisfy all old claims against such deposits, so the new mmanganese will not be seized on its arrivval abroad.

"Work has been begun for the reopening of the iil pipe line between Baku and Batum, and we shall export the oil."

Complaints Missing in Chinese Dope Case

What became of the two complaints that were issued in 1917 against Mrs. Pong wong is what Police Judge Edward Tyrrell wants to know. The complaints were asked for this morning by Judge Tyrrell but no one was able to find them. Mrs. Pong Wong was arrested on March 3 0on a charge of violating the state poison act. According to the police records this is the third time she has been arrested on the same charge. According to the law the third offense makes the crime a felony.

According to the police records Mrs. Wong was arrested on March 14 and November 11 of 1917. Chief of Police Fenton Thompson says his department has the dockets which will show that the woman paid a fine. He says he can also produce the two officers that arrested her in 1917.

She was arrested on March 30 at 727 Harrison street by Sergeant E. W. Brock. The case was continued this morning by Judge Tyrrell until Monday morning. A search of the entire office is being made to try to locate the complaints.

Rival Factions Talk On Irish Problem

BERKELEY, May 7.—Rival factions on the Irish question are still at sword's points today as the result of a debate Thursday evening at the High School auditorium.

Lieutenant D. H. Gordon, an Ulster Protestant, was the speaker at the meeting, which almost ended in a riot. When Gordon declared that Ireland was in reality an integral part of the United Kingdom and had never had internal nationality, Jerry Lynch, of Oakland, interrupted with the statement: "That's a —— lie."

Gordon challenged Lynch to repeat his statement. Lynch made the repetition and was invited to step on the platform to explain his remarks.

When Lynch reached the platform he said "I retract nothing," and after making his speech attacking Gordon's statements again took his seat.

Lieutenant Gordon declared that recognition of the Irish Republic should be opposed by Americans because there is no real republican government functioning there. The so-called Sinn Fein government, he said, functions "only in guerilla warfare." Thomas J. Stead presided.

BABY STILLMAN WINS POINT IN DIVORCE TRIAL

Question of Interest in Vast Estate Not Affected by the 'Honey-Dear' Letters.

NEW YORK, May 7.—An important point has been won for Baby Guy Stillman, the "silent principal" in the Stillman divorce case, by a ruling of Referee Daniel J. Gleason that neither the testimony of Dr. Hugh Russell of Buffalo, nor the disputed "dear honey" letter alleged to have been written by Fred Beauvais, the co-respondent, shall be admitted into the evidence so far as the controversy over the parentage of the boy is concerned, it was learned today.

This ruling was secured by John E. Mack, guardian-at-law for Guy. The referee assured Mr. Mack that the Russell testimony and the "dear honey" letter will be considered only as affecting the multi-millionaire's plea for a divorce.

"FRAME-UP" CHARGED.

Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman made the angry accusation today that an attempt had been made to "frame-up" the case. Counsel for Mrs. Stillman declared that they had learned that one woman, who is expected to testify for the former banker, formerly had close relations with a band of men and women of shady characters who were once suspected of blackmailing wealthy men and women at Atlantic City. This woman was not identified but it was said that she was on good terms with the plaintiff, who had advanced her money.

Mrs. Stillman's lawyers were deeply resentful over the publication of letters, alleged to have been written by Beauvais. They alleged that representatives of the "other side" had violated secret agreements. As a result of the publication of these letters, it was reported that Mrs. Stillman must file a second amendment to her reply to her husband's suit.

Attorneys for Mrs. Stillman, it was said, might name another woman in addition to the former chorus girl, "Flo" Leeds. According to the gossip, Mrs. Stillman's lawyers would charge the ex-banker with maintaining an apartment for the unnamed woman for two years.

An alleged attempt to "plant" a dictaphone in the bedroom or writing room of Mrs. Stillman at Malbanne, the Stillman home at Pocantico Hills, was revealed today.

The story is that Mrs. Stillman returned home suddenly one afternoon to find an electrician stringing a wire in her writing room, which adjoins the bedroom. A stirring scene ensued, in the course of which the man is said to have admitted that he had been engaged to install a dictaphone. This incident occurred shortly after Fred Beauvais had come to Pocantico Hills from Canada to take charge of the Stillman estate.

Another intresting report from the defense camp was that Mrs. Stillman would undertake to show that the "dearest honey" letter was "planted" in her writing desk by a maid whom she (Mrs. Stillman) afterward discharged from her service. A former employee of the Stillmans has testified that he found this letter in the desk.

Local Board Urged to Pass On Wage Case

CINCINNATI, May 7 (By Associated Press). — Establishment of local wage conference or adjustment boards throughout the country to prevent unnecessary strikes and lockouts in the building industry was urged today by the executive council of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor in session here. Under the proposed plan announced by John Donlin, president of the Building Trades Department, association of wage disputes is provided and sympathetic strikes in behalf of unions making "unjustified demands" are prevented. It has already been successfully tried out in several cities, including Cincinnati, he said.

The new movement, he added, will give stability to the industry aid inspire confidence in the building and investment industry. The proposed boards will be composed of representatives of the building contractors and the various unions.

Word was received by the council that J. H. Thomas, head of the railway workers' union in England, will come to the United States soon and will address the federation convention in Denver in June.

'Bad Boy' Jack Is Kissed and Forgiven by His Film Girl

Down in Los Angeles, where one of three alleged wives resides, "Dapper Jack" or John William Murray, also familiarly known along New York's great White Way as "Manhattan Jack," is today reported reconciled with his first love, Yvonne Pavis, film star.

Murray left San Francisco yesterday to report to his wife—or Wife No. 1—for "chastisement," after his adroit adventure in the Land of Romance had been exposed from one end of the country to the other.

When Murray appeared at the film actress' apartment, Marie Pavis, as she is known in the movies, threw her arms about him and, kissing him, cried "Jack, my bad, bad boy!"

LONG DISTANCE LOVE.

Murray's appearance was preceded by a long-distance telephone conversation, during which the actress is reported to have breathed into the mouthpiece in Los Angeles the following words which flowed out of the San Francisco end of the wire and thumped at Murray's ear drums like gentle music: "All right, Jack, you may come back to me." She breathed the message tenderly, exultantly.

Reports from New York Tuesday announced that Murray, who has for the past ten years helped to light up Broadway, announced he had gone through marriage ceremonies with Yvonne (Marie) Pavis, Mary Elizabeth Dougherty, former war worker, and Anna May Southwick, known on the stage as Anna Warwick.

In San Francisco the other day Murray admitted having married each in turn, and that he had not been divorced. He insisted, however, that his marriage to Miss Pavis and Miss Dougherty were not legal. He declared that both had husbands living at the time he married them. That was before he had the long-distance conversation with Miss Pavis, in whose apartment in Los Angeles he is reported making himself at home, according to despatches from the southern city today.

At this point it is also appropriate to recall the statement of Wife No. 1—Marie Pavis Murray, made at the time the marital storm broke about Murray's head in New York. She said of him:

"He was a man who would talk to you in millions and then borrow 50 cents of you."

And she said today in Los Angeles after Murray's arrival, according to the despatch:

"BAD BOY" FORGIVEN.

"Little boys who do bad things are given a spanking by their doting mothers, then forgiven. Jack is a big boy and has done big bad things. And he, too, deserved a sound spanking. If he is sincere in his repentance, I am willing to take him back and forgive him his misdeeds."

It was announced from New York yesterday that Marie Dougherty had taken steps to procure an annulment of her marriage to Murray.

Acting District Attorney Banton of New York said he would take no action in the matter unless formal complaint is made by one of the wives.

Murray stated when he left San Francisco yesterday that he was ready to go back and face charges of bigamy [illegible] made against him.

LEGAL DECISION IS CHANGED BY JUDGE'S RECALL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—The recent recall election resulting in the retirement from the police bench of Judge John J. Sullivan was responsible for the deciding of a fine legal point by the district court of appeal today and the reversal of a case charging perjury. The court held that the rule which provides that a superior judge must hear an entire case and that no other jurist of equal authority can be summoned to sit when the action has already been half tried, applies as well to the police court. Frank D. Williams, in a suit for divorce, has been accused of perjury and the matter was before Judge Sullivan. After the latter's recall, Police Judge McAtee heard the remainder of the evidence. In holding Williams to answer Judge McAtee stated that on the evidence before him he would have dismissed the accused, but that taking into consideration the testimony heard by Police Judge Sullivan, and putting the two together, he would hold the defendant to answer. The court ordered that Williams be discharged.

WOMAN WILLED HALF MILLION 'FOR KINDNESS'

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—Half a million dollars for kindness.

Mrs. Mary E. Higgins, wife of a traveling salesman, was bequeathed that amount in the will of John M. Gilbert, on file for probate here today.

Gilbert, an elderly widower, who amassed $750,000 as a real estate dealer in Buffalo, N. Y., died Wednesday night.

Describing Mrs. Higgins as "my esteemed friend," he made her beneficiary to the bulk of his estate "as a remembrance for her many and gratefully appreciated kindnesses, care and services to me for many years."

In other unusual bequests, Gilbert provided incomes of from $50 a month to $150 to various employees of the Angelus hotel, which had been his temporary home for years.

B. Frank Dake, a Buffalo attorney, and Jessa C. Gibbs and Wm. C. Rea, both also of Buffalo, likewise are beneficiaries. Dake and Miss Gibbs are to receive $100 a month and Rea $200.

Gilbert's last request in the will is that his body be cremated and the "ashes scattered to the winds without ceremony."

L. A. ATTORNEY SHOT TO DEATH BY WIFE ON STREET

"Let Him Die," She Says As Police Arrive; Had Record As Wielder of Whip.

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—Frederick R. Levee, Los Angeles attorney, was shot and killed by his wife, a former Cleveland, Ohio, court stenographer at St. Charles and Gravier streets, one of New Orleans' busiest corners at 10:15 a. m. today. Thousands scurried to shelter when the woman began firing. Mrs. Levee gave herself up to the police. She refused to make any statement.

Mrs. Levee alleges that her husband [illegible] for a cabaret singer [illegible] in Manila. She says she married him in Cleveland and [illegible] his education and that he ran away with the other woman and has been traveling around the country with her.

Mrs. Levee began suit for separate maintenance in Los Angeles some time ago. She said her husband perjured himself in the hearing and she filed the charges. She said he cursed and abused her when they met this morning and that she fired on him [illegible]

"Let him die. He hasn't half [illegible] what's coming to him," she told police who arrived on the scene just after the fatal shooting. She showed no sorrow.

Mrs. Levee is the same woman who during the Democratic National Convention in California horsewhipped several women she found in her husband's office. It was afterward shown that the women, from Arkansas, had come to see Levee's law partner.

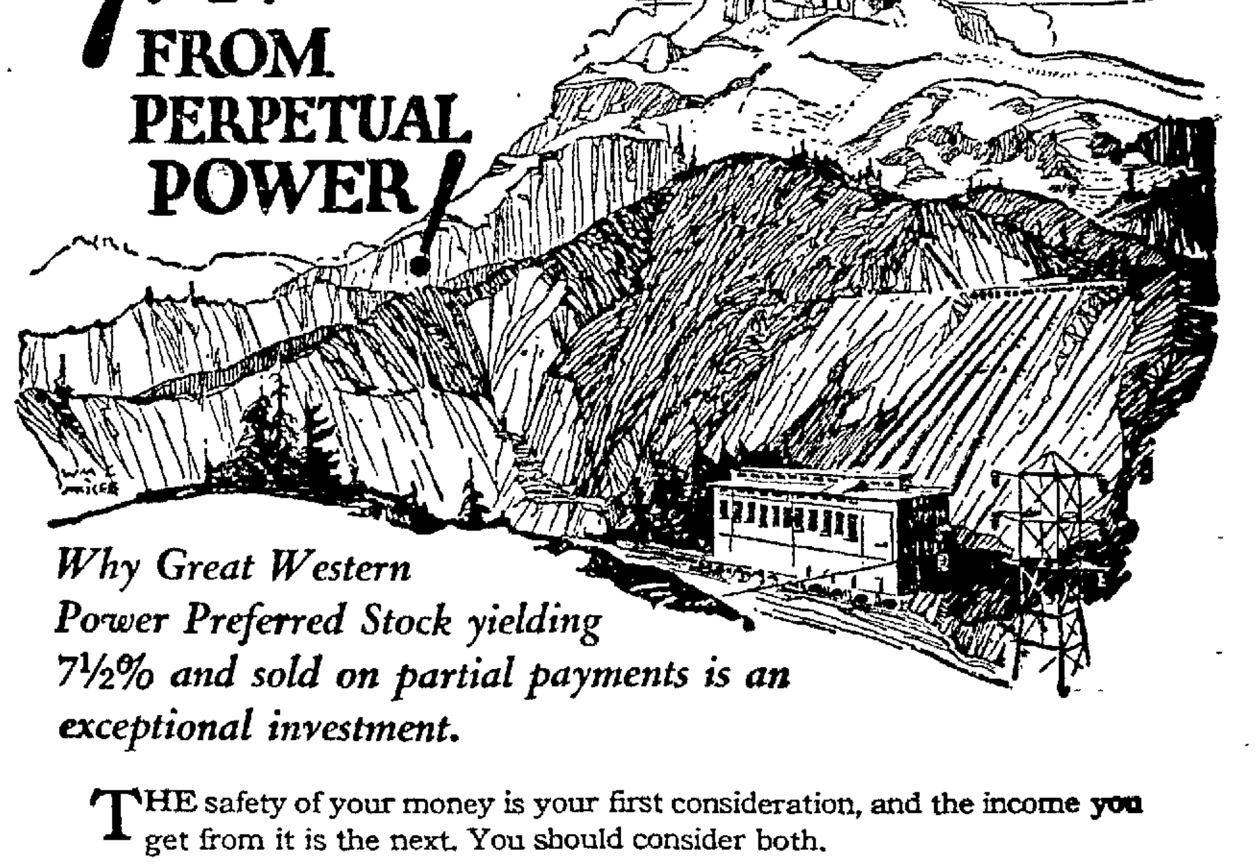

Once before, it is said, Mrs. Levee shot her husband in the arm in Los Angeles.

SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1921.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

There is in Congress a widely diffused and growing conviction that the national debt of the United States should be refunded in order that the payment of principal and interest may be made somewhat easier during the next four or five years, until the government is able to throw off some of the extraordinary increases, taken on during the war, in its current expenditures. The task of reducing taxation and at the same time carrying on the necessary work of the government appears to many members of Congress as being so formidable that it cannot be performed unless some relief is had from the payments of interest and sinking fund on the national debt.

Figures recently issued by the Treasury Department give a summary of the public debt and of the securities owned by the United States government as of February 28, 1921. The total indebtedness now outstanding is approximately $19,500,000,000 or some $2,000,000,000 less than the amount issued. The average annual interest rate is about 4¼ per cent, which makes a total annual charge of about $830,000,000. Disregarding the optional maturity dates the principal of this debt becomes payable as follows:

Maturity.	Amount.
May 20, 1923	$4,149,727,700
Sept. 15, 1928	3,645,692,850
Oct. 15, 1938	6,361,610,150
Nov. 15, 1942	3,322,231,400
Jan. 15, 1947	1,952,328,650

The payments thus extend over a period of twenty-six years. If equal annual payments could be made it would require about $750,000,000 a year to liquidate the principal in this period. In addition to this the interest charges of $830,000,000 at the beginning of the period would have to be met requiring an annual outlay of $1,580,000,000 per year.

It is clear, however, that the maturities arranged as they are will require payment at a much more rapid rate than this in the early years. The Victory notes of $4,200,000,000 mature in two years while our annual rate would provide only $1,500,000,000 in that time. At the end of seven years a total of $7,850,000,000 of principal will have become due while the scheme of annual payments would provide only $5,250,000,000. Even at the end of twenty-one years when the second Liberties become due we would be short nearly $2,000,000,000. There is also outstanding a floating indebtedness of about $2,500,000,000 and war savings securities to the extent of some $800,000,000, all of which must be met within the next few years.

At present Congress has provided for an annual sinking fund of 2½ per cent of the outstanding war bonds less an amount equal to the par value of the obligations of foreign governments held by the Treasury. This sinking fund amounts to about $253,000,000 for the present year. Any repayments of the principal of foreign obligations must also be applied to the retirement of Liberty bonds. It is calculated that the cumulative sinking fund would retire the war debt less the foreign obligation in about twenty-five years, or within the terms of their maturity.

However, there seems to be little immediate prospect of any substantial payment on these foreign obligations and in the meantime our own bonds will mature and must be met. There seems to be no way out of the difficulty except to refund the issues.

Many schemes have been proposed for this anticipated refunding. The suggestion which seems to be most favored is to refund the whole amount, in long term bonds, say forty years, with provision for the regular retirement of a fixed portion each year. If such a refunding is made at present it would require a higher rate of interest, probably at least 5 per cent, which would increase the annual outlay of the government for this purpose about $150,000,000.

This consideration of the higher rate of interest on present refinancing projects seems to be about the only sound one standing against the refunding plan.

An investigation of California highways by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture lists 87½ percent, or 1262 miles, of the concrete paved highways of this State as being in good condition. This is really a creditable showing, especially in view of the heavier traffic and the heavier type of motor truck which has developed since the four-inch concrete base of California's highways was adopted and laid.

"GO TO THE POLLS."

Next Tuesday an election will be held in Oakland for the choosing of two members of the City Council and three members of the Oakland Board of Education. The decisions which the voters will make in the contests for these vacancies are of more than usual importance.

As to the City Council there has been much complaint in recent months against the performance of the city government and two of the commissioners who joined their interests to destroy the civil service system have been peremptorily ejected from office at the nominating primary. If the citizens of Oakland have any idea or judgment as to the kind and quality of officials they want to replace these commissioners, their sole means of expression of that judgment is at the polls on election day. In the school board it is most important that the right kind of members be chosen, at least the best qualified three among those candidates aspiring for places.

Recently the Oakland Rotary Club passed resolutions urging its membership and all the citizens to go to the polls on election day. Last Wednesday the Lions Club passed almost identical resolutions. Other civic and business organizations have taken similar action, all of which shows a healthy recognition of the obligation resting upon the citizenship of this community to exercise in a positive manner the right of suffrage and to meet the obligation to vote.

Oakland is at the most important juncture of its progressive career. In the news columns of THE TRIBUNE during the last week has appeared abundant evidence of the business revival, of the industrial and trade progress of this city. Those citizens who would see the city continue to go ahead, to make the most out of its opportunities that have been thrust upon it, must vote on the important question of reconstituting the city government and the Board of Education.

Write on your calendar page for next Tuesday the phrase "Go to the polls," and then obey the injunction the first thing on Tuesday morning.

LIVES SAVED CHEAPLY.

Mr. Thomas Lamont, chairman of the American Chinese Famine Committee, believes that only about 5,000,000 inhabitants in the famine-stricken districts of China are now doomed to die. American help, he says, has cut 10,000,000 souls from the original death list.

American financial assistance to the Chinese famine sufferers is about $5,600,000, made up of $3,600,000 raised by the China Famine Committee, $1,000,000 by the Red Cross, and another million by the American churches for their missionary workers in China. So America has been saving Chinese in this latest period of distress at a cost of a little more than 50 cents per person saved.

It is stated that a large proportion of the five million that are still destitute and painfully in need of rations can be saved if financial aid is promptly forthcoming. However isolated from the Chinese poor people in the drought districts we may feel, 50 cents does not appear, just as an abstract proposition, a very large investment for the saving of a human life.

The drys argue that prohibition has stimulated the diamond trade. Among those who enjoyed conditions of former years certainly were some who were gems of the first water.

TWO AMERICAN SCHOOLS.

The newspapers last week printed interesting despatches concerning two unusual educational institutions in the United States the existence of which gives abundant proof of the determination of thousands of Americans young in spirit if not in years to improve their minds.

One of these is Valparaiso University in Indiana, where industrial methods are intelligently applied to the task of instructing seekers after knowledge. It is not an endowed institution, nor a public school, but a plain business enterprise where men and women who want collegiate degrees may win them as quickly as their natural ability and application will permit them to cover the courses. Valparaiso offers courses practically continuous, an academic year opens when the student chooses; the length of the student's stay is fixed by his own wants. Early to rise and burn the midnight oil is the motto of most of the students; they are in search of education, not recreation, the loafer will find few if any companions in idleness.

The fees at Valparaiso are low, but the institution is declared to have been a success as a business enterprise, its founders having retired from its management with substantial fortunes. Its recent notoriety appears to have been the result of objections to innovations introduced by certain of their successors.

The other institution of learning which has lately received some publicity is Oneida Institute, at Oneida, Clay county, Kentucky, whose founder, the Rev. James A. Burns, known throughout the region his school serves as "Burns of the Mountains" has just retired after a lifework of creative effort in behalf of the splendid but neglected people of the Kentucky highlands. Mr. Burns was converted at a revival and dedicated his life to the spread of education and religion among his people. He began his work without money and without support. He appealed for help to the population he desired to benefit, and enlisted the mountaineers themselves in the hard labor of founding a school, erecting the necessary buildings and providing the plant needed for the purpose it was to serve. There attend the children of the mountaineers, to whom in the past the country has offered almost nothing and today offers much less than it should.

These schools widely separated in the spirit which moved their founders, but both contributing to the intellectual training of the public, differ in many respects from the great State universities and the endowed colleges with which everybody is familiar, but all these institutions testify to the increasing demand for education characteristic of the United States, failure to satisfy which would invite national disaster.—New York Herald.

NOTES and COMMENT

An interesting piece of news is the despatch from Watsonville which tells of a trainload of vinegar—25 cars, 125 barrels—being despatched from a local plant for eastern points. Thus it is disclosed that California contributes the sours along with the sweets to sections lacking in the same.

An altogether new angle to the Russian debacle is the publication of a decree announcing the independence of White Russia as a Jewish state. Aside from the difficulty of determining the boundaries of White Russia is the surprise that any part of Russia should set up as a state of that character. But the angles of that chaotic country are so many that perhaps nothing should be surprising.

The Supreme court has refused to disbar former Police Judge Sullivan on the testimony of C. Vincent Riccardi. It was abundantly established that Riccardi is a bad one, but two justices of the court of last resort held in dissenting opinions that he was telling it straight about Sullivan. However, the recall will not be undone.

Those who may read the heading, "Anti - Dumping Measure Great Storm Center," and no further may think it refers to the garbage problem that every city has to deal with and which never seems to be settled by any, but not so. It concerns countries which are throwing into this country their manufactures, and the Democratic members of the Senate are trying to make a political point of it.

The Stockton Independent propounds a personal question: "Are you forty? And are you well and happy, or are you fat and flabby and puffy under the eyes and short of breath, and do you tire unduly after a day's work or play? In short, at forty, are you better than you were at thirty, as you should be, or are you on the way to the cemetery?"

The order of Ku Klux Klan in the South is growing. It had its origin in reconstruction days, when it dealt summarily with foes of the South who were sent to reorganize the States that had seceded; but it languished until recent times, when something started it on a new growth. It is a vigilance committee, with the spectacular detail of shroud disguises and wierd ceremonies.

Congress seems to be in better accord now than it generally finds itself. A few days ago the Senate passed the Immigration bill with but one dissenting vote, and on Thursday the House passed the Budget bill, 344 to 9. When Congress is so near unanimous as that, important legislation is in a way to have prompt despatch.

The Richmond Record-Herald differentiates: "We are strong for suffrage, and woman's rights, and all that, but have to admit that while she has a perfect right to do so, if a lady candidate for office asked us to vote for her while she was chewing a big wad of gum or smoking a cigarette, or had skirts up to her garters, we wouldn't do it.

General Pershing, if he is wearing all his honors and decorations, must have the space well covered. Hardly a week passes but some potentate, government, university or city confers a degree or insignia upon him. The latest is the Pennsylvania Military College at Chester. It is to be said that his modesty and bearing are admirable under the circumstances.

Among other things the great war interrupted the decennial production of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, an entirely unique and world-famous performance by the peasants of that Bavarian town. An announcement from Anton Lang, the Christus of the sacred drama, is to the effect that the performances will be resumed next year.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

Francisco Cornejo, the Mexican artist, who gathered the collection of Maya and Aztec art which has been placed on exhibition in the art gallery at Stanford, urges that American architects, sculptors and painters take this aboriginal American art as their inspiration instead of that of Egypt, Greece and the Orient. Whether we should go so far away and so far back, it does seem as if in architecture, at least in California, there might be developed an indigenous type, suitable to our climate and sunshine.—Palo Alto Times.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt will probably delay until fall his Pacific Coast visit. This information was received by the Bremerton Chamber of Commerce in reply to its request that a date be reserved for a dinner or reception. Roosevelt replied that he did not expect to be able to make the western trip before fall.—Vallejo News.

Among the late little bills slipped through both houses at the last minute was Senate measure No. 631 by Duncan fixing the salary of the county librarian at $2400. The Butte board of supervisors had recently refused to raise the importunate lady's wages. So Senator Duncan took it up at Sacramento over their heads—Chico Enterprise.

Fresno spent $93,000 for its two-day raisin festival. As Fresno was one of the first to institute these "days" for letting the world hear about raisins, it may be taken for granted that the city knows it pays to spend large sums encouraging the world to eat raisins as a staple food and not to consider them, as in the old days, a luxury.—Stockton Record.

JUST IN TIME.

OIL IN MESOPOTAMIA.

The following article bearing on the oil resources of Mesopotamia appeared in the Daily Telegraph, of London, March 29, 1921:

So much importance attaches to the development of the oil resources of Mesopotamia that the name of Gayara is known even in England, though little seems as yet to have been published about the actual workings there. On my way north I made a visit to this oil field, which even in its present primitive condition supplies the northern command with much of its requirements.

Some thirteen years ago I happened, in the course of traveling through the Bakstiri Mountains, in Persia, to go out of my way to visit the just discovered oil field near Tembi, which now supplies the enormous refinery of the Anglo-Persian Company. The resemblance between the two is remarkable, and the history of the two has presented, and perhaps will present still further, a curious similarity.

At present Gayara is almost totally undeveloped, as the oil, obtained from a shallow well of 150 feet, affords all the output that the primitive machinery on the spot can deal with. The same formation of oil reservoirs covered by this limestone strata is observable on the even higher quality petroleum secured at Gayara. Even without the final refining out of the sulphur—which is impossible without the establishment of a better plant—the gravity of the oil of Gayara is 0.685. As to quantity, experts believe that at varying depths to 2000 feet oil will be found in great abundance. Indeed, the whose river Tigris reeks of petroleum. The pontoons of the bridges are saturated with it, and last night, which was particularly still, the smell of floating petroleum from some natural source beneath it was perceptible by the side of the walls of Nineveh, about a mile from the present course of the river and forty miles upstream from Gayara.

There can be no doubt of the presence of petroleum in enormous quantities in this region, and only the suspense caused by the prolonged uncertainty of the political policy to be adopted by the government prevents the installation of a modern plant. It is worth observing that conversely the stability of the administration of northern Irak depends equally upon the proper exploitation of its wealth.

About YOUR HEALTH

"Lichen Planus"—Its Cause and How It Should Be Treated

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

The outside covering of the body, the skin, is often a mirror, reflecting the condition of the nerves. Nervous exhaustion is responsible for many an ailment which is reflected in this mirror. One such disease is called "lichen planus."

In this disease there appears on the skin an eruption of red or lilac-tinted spots. At first these glistening, burnished, solid elevations are about the size of the head of a pin, not regular in shape, but flat or hollow on the top. Later a number of these spots may run together and form a considerable patch. Sometimes these patches become rough and scaly.

The eruption is found on the wrists and inside the elbow, or it may be found in the bend back of the knee, or the inner surface of the thigh.

It is rarely found on the face or head. Sometimes it forms as a line or stripe extending from below the knee to the hip. In women the irritation of a corset may bring out the eruption about the waist.

Sometimes the lining membrane of the mouth may be affected.

There may or may not be itching of the skin. At times it may be so severe as to prevent sleep.

The acute type clears up in a month or two. The chronic form may run on for years.

I have said that worry and tired nerves are frequently responsible for this disease. The treatment is obvious. Relief from business or household cares is essential.

Right living, simple food, lots of sleep and fresh air day and night are essential factors in banishing the trouble.

Stimulants, tea and coffee should be used in greatest moderation.

In view of the obscure origin of this disease consideration must be given the possibility of absorption of poisons from teeth, gums, nose and tonsils. Likewise, it should be made sure that the kidneys and bowels are functioning properly.

For the itching, hyposulphite of soda, one drachm to the ounce of water, will promote comfort. Bicarbonate of soda applied in a similar way may prove grateful.

The X-rays and radium have been recommended.

Each case must be studied for its individual features. No universal rule of medication can be prescribed. The resources of the doctor are often taxed by the obstinacy of lichen planus.

Locally, various mercurial, lead and menthol ointments and lotions have been recommended. Phenol, ten drops to the ounce, may help. Menthol in the same proportion is sometimes useful. These may be prepared and used either as solutions or as ointments.

FLAW IN HIS ELOQUENCE.

Senator La Follette's eloquent espousal of the cause of Ireland might have more influence if he had espoused the cause of the United States a little harder during the recent war with Germany.—Buffalo Express.

BUGLE NOTES TO HERALD PRINCE AT AD-MASQUE

Ten Thousand Are Expected to Attend Fantasy At Auditorium Tonight.

Oakland's Glad Night is at hand.

Tonight the sixth annual Ad-Masque, colorful, tuneful, gorgeous, "The Sleeping Beauty" will be presented to the thousands in the Municipal Auditorium.

Against a background of green and gold, purple and flaming red and midnight black, to the crash of four orchestras and the long bugle notes heralding Prince Publicity, the Ad-Masque tonight will go down in Oakland's history as the greatest of all.

This is the confident expectations of the men of the Oakland Advertising Club which has sponsored the Ad-Masque during the past six years.

Ten thousand grown-ups and kiddies are expected to crowd through the doors of the East entrance tonight.

The principals in the pantominic fantasy were announced today as follows:

Princess California, Miss Alice Fosgett; Prince Publicity, George Lowry; The King, V. N. Jenkins; The Queen, Douglas B. Montell.

PRINCESS VISITS MAYOR.

Princess California called on Mayor John L. Davie yesterday. The mayor received the royal visitor with his broadest smile.

"Little Princess, we'll see you at the Ad-Masque tonight," he said.

Three hundred dancing nymphs have been put through their final steps by Miss Marie Allen, director of the dances. The trees that walk, the dancing telephone poles, the human telephone, good fairies, bad fairies, gnomes, ink imps, Father Time, court jesters, mist dancers, animated flowers, all will be seen tonight.

Behind the joy and fun and color and life of the sixth annual Ad-Masque is the more serious purpose—that of showing the necessity of all Northern California folks to get behind the slogan—"Greater California—Straight Ahead."

The authors of "The Sleeping Beauty" had in mind the wonderful natural resources of the state, its climate, its wealth of minerals and water, its undeveloped electric power, which have not reached their full power. And so R. W. Rinehart and W. A. Brower in the pantomimic fantasy brought forth Prince Publicity and his agents—the telephones, the newspapers, magazines, billboards, moving pictures, and other advertising media—to awaken "The Sleeping Beauty," Princess California.

EVERY BOX SEAT SOLD.

Every box seat for tonight's Ad-Masque has been sold. Thousands of the reserved seats have been disposed of. The ad men warn those intending to attend the big event to buy tickets early today or appear early at the Auditorium box offices in the east end of the building.

The Petaluma Advertising Club has bought a section and will arrive by special train.

From San Jose, San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento, and all the immediate outlying land will come visitors to participate in Oakland's Glad-Night.

The Ad-Masque will open with a tug-of-war between the teams of the Bethlehem, Union Construction and Moore yards, with Mayor Davie as referee.

One of the distinctive features of the fantasy is the dance of the animated telephone poles and the human telephone, impersonated by Miss Marguerite Curran. The animated telephone poles and the "human 'phone" are contributed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Eccentric dance steps have been perfected. The feature closes when the "human phone" tells the world, a lively impersonation arranged by the advertising club.

ALL MAY DANCE.

Following the presentation of "The Sleeping Beauty," the participants and spectators will join in general dancing to the syncopated music of four augmented bands and orchestras.

At 11:30 the great arena will be darkened, the signal for the climax of Oakland's Glad Night. On the stage "The Incense Inferno" will be presented with its closing dramatic episode, "The Kiss of Death." Two harem favorites, Zobeide and Zuleika, dance the fire dance and then appears the sorceress, the Princess Pirouse Balsora who, with her flaming torch, sets the "Incense Inferno" on fire. The whole auditorium will be filled with burning incense following a flash of lightning and a kiss.

Then follows dancing until the wee sma' hours.

And so tonight is the night of nights.

It is Oakland's Glad Night.

It is Oakland's Ad-Masque festival night.

Special late car service over the main lines of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways has been put in effect for tonight in order to accommodate the Ad-Masque crowds.

The following lines will maintain service, the last cars leaving the auditorium at 1:15 o'clock Sunday morning:

East Fourteenth street; San Pablo avenue to Richmond; Park boulevard; Hopkins; Grove street; College avenue; Santa Clara; West Twelfth street; Telegraph avenue.

Water Nymphs to Dance on Shores of Lake Aliso at Mills May Fete

Atlanta and her Huntress and Pan and Dionysus are some of the characters of the May Fete of Mills College to be given one week from today. The photograph, taken at the dress rehearsal, shows MISS AMY GRUPE as the leader of a band of water nymphs. A triumphant procession will conclude the pageant which is to portray the rural festivals of the Greeks.

GRECIAN MYTHS USED BY MILLS FOR MAY FETE

Nymphs and Other Figures of Mythology Have Parts in Lake Aliso Program.

The M[illegible] of Lake [illegible] presented [illegible] the campus of Mills College on May 14 has been chosen from a group of themes written by students. The young woman whose theme was chosen is Miss Marjorie Spring, a member of the junior class.

In the story the author has woven together brief legends centering about Dionysus. She has combined the myst of the brilliant sun of Fire and Dew with the history of the [illegible] worship and the dawn of comedy resulting in the [illegible] of Greek civilization and formal and ritual worship.

According to a custom established at Mills some seven years ago the May fete is presented annually on the banks of Lake Aliso, made famous not only by its natural beauty, the exquisite emerald coloring of its waters, its mirrored reflections and the wooded hill slopes surrounding it, but also because it has been chosen by artists as a subject for photographic and creative art. The late Giuseppe Cadenasso found here the inspiration of many of his best paintings.

Following the prologue which tells of the young god Dionysius comes the dance of Pan. Atalanta and her huntresses then rush in, spreading terror among the dieties and putting them to flight. However, the intrepid god Pan returns and with his piping entices the water nymphs to follow him in a dance with the goatherd and his companions. In this way the rural festivals of agricultural brooks are portrayed in dance and nature worship. This part is especially beautiful as here the nymphs actually emerge from the cool, green waters.

In the third episode there is feasting and this is followed by games, discus throwing and wrestling matches. A triumphal procession of Dionysius and his companions conclude the pageant.

The fete is under the direction of the senior class and the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Rheem Stoner.

CRAGMONT CLUB GETS ADDITION

BERKELEY, May 7. — Overalls and gingham aprons were again in evidence at Codornices playground today when residents of the Cragmont section turned out for a second "Labor Day" to continue the work of improving the clubhouse at the playground.

A stage was added to the club house as the result of last Saturday's Labor Day, while the building of additions to the club house in the form of living apartments for an attendant and a property room occupied attention today. Several more Saturdays will be consumed before the work is completed.

The designs have been made by Bernard Maybeck and will be carried out under the supervision of B. J. Cutler, master builder of Berkeley.

An enthusiastic meeting of the club was held last night at the residence of the president, Dr. George S. Pittock. The refreshment committee reported that in response to a call for donations toward the luncheon and dinner for today that the following citizens had responded:

AND LOOK US OVER

If you are about to buy a new or good used car, don't buy until you have visited our salesroom. We have taken the agency for the new Metz Master Six, and are going to let every buyer be an advertising agent for us. We will sell our first thirty-five Master Sixes for $1700. The list price is $2250 Oakland. Just look around at the $1700 and $2000 cars and compare with ours. Then judge for yourself. Don't be misled by the name-Metz. This car is entirely different. It has a six-cylinder Ruterbar motor, Timkin throughout, Borg & Beck clutch, Brown-Lipe transmission.

We have about twenty late model cars slightly damaged by fire. No reasonable offer refused on these cars.

Eleven Million in U. S. Loans Asked

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Applications for loans totaling $11,035,000 for financing exports have been approved by the War Finance Corporation since its revival in January, a statement summary made public by the corporation says. Of this sum $2,306,798 has been actually advanced.

Requests for $8,500,000 for financing exports of milk products were the heaviest loans applied for, while cotton was next, with applications aggregating $2,505,000. The remaining $30,000 was for tobacco exports.

Countries to which the commodities would be shipped include England, France, Italy, Portugal, Japan, Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, as as well as several in South America.

SHIPPING, FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

HIGH RATES HURT COAST GROWERS, I. C. C. INFORMED

Grapes the Only California Product Able to Survive Freight Charges.

After an extensive hearing in San Francisco yesterday, attended by a number of Eastbay men, Henry J. Ford, Interstate Commerce Commission assistant, came to Oakland last night and left for Washington state, where on Tuesday in Yakima, he will hear further evidence against the disastrous effect of high freight rates to western fruit and vegetable growers.

Ford will stop in Boise, Idaho, on next Saturday and will be one day in Denver the following week.

PROHIBITION SAVED GRAPES.

An enormous demand for California grapes since the advent of prohibition has made grapes the only California agricultural product capable of surviving the present high freight rates, according to testimony given in San Francisco yesterday by producing and shipping interests.

Ten thousand cars of fresh produce mostly grapes, were shipped out of the Lodi district last year, according to J. T. Langford, a Lodi grape grower, who said the vineyards of his locality would have lost heavily last year but for prohibition.

Protests against existing freight rates, which they said had kept onions, potatoes, celery, rice, apples and fruit out of eastern markets were filed by a number of California growers and shippers.

EGG PRODUCERS COMPLAIN.

Egg producers of the Petaluma district complained also that on account of the elimination of eastern markets through rate differentials, 2,436,158 cases of eggs were sent into cold storage last season, an increase of 1,415,195 cases over the season before.

L. H. Twede, a rice grower of the Sacramento Valley, said that on account of weather conditions only 40 per cent of the rice crop was harvested this year, and but little of it found its way outside the state on account of high carrier tariffs. Formerly California rice could compete successfully in the Louisiana markets against the abundant Louisiana crops, he said. His testimony concluded the hearing here.

The sessions held by Ford were informal and designed to gather facts for the commission; they were not in the way of a general investigation, which will result in an order.

Why World Of Affairs Holds Hope

By HOLLAND

Exclusive to OAKLAND TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, May 6. — It is not safe to rely on the movements in the Stock Exchange for an opinion of the real situation in the United States today. There are peculiar and especial influences still in operation in the securities market which do not justify the opinion at this time that the stock market always discounts the future. It is true that these markets did discount the coming of depression at least four months before business began to realize that depression, and recently the securities market has shown some strength and it may be that this is due to the gradually increasing feeling of optimism. It is more likely, however, that it is due to certain events recorded in the last two or three weeks. One of these was the failure to bring about a general strike in Great Britain. That failure, it is now recognized, was caused by the demonstration of the fundamental and inherent common sense which characterize the great body of the English people. It has been said that the failure of the plan to institute a general strike in Great Britain is likely to be classed as one of the most decisive industrial battles in the world's history.

There is no doubt that when England saved herself the rest of the world, and especially the United States applauded. Undoubtedly also one of the effects tended to increase confidence in American securities.

AN IMPORTANT INFLUENCE

The securities market also responded favorably to the decision of the Railway Labor Board which will permit regulations to be formulated by the individual carriers and by their employees after July 1. Whether or not it immediately will affect the wage problem is not known. But it is a gratifying demonstration of the purpose to permit business to handle its own problems without any governmental interference.

Another influence which tends to optimism is the reduction in prices and wages which the United States Steel Corporation has made.

When the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reduced its discount rate the other day only on inference was possible from this action and that was that it was highly favorable to the credit situation. It shows that liquidation in New England in its industries and other occupations has been substantially completed. The worst is over there and the belief is that we may look for rapidly increasing production and a considerable improvement in business in the New England district by July 1.

ENCOURAGING INFLUENCE.

Not the least of the influences which are causing renewed confidence is the certainty that the excess profits tax speedily is to be repealed and that there is to be a readjustment of internal taxation. The adoption of a national budget system will be of great advantage in controlling expenditure. It is true that we must raise in the form of taxes about $5,000,000,000 a year, but there will be a readjustment and equalization of taxation, the advantage of which will be very great.

In fact, there is not a single reason for doubting the statements made by those who are competent to form judgment that such depression as there was is ending and that the world is on the road to recovery.

OWNERS SEEK TO DUMP 3000 SACKS ONIONS IN RIVER

Bought At $1.25 They Are Now Offered at 10 Cents; Strawberries Brisk.

Request is reported from Lodi for permission to dump 3000 sacks of onions in storage there into the Mokelumne river. The request is made by present owners who paid as high as $1.25 a sack and recently have offered the onions as low as 10 cents a sack with the sack thrown in.

The situation emphasizes one of the most unfortunate years onion growers have experienced in a long time.

In Oakland there are now hundreds of sacks of onions which commission men bought early in the season at $1 or more, which will have to be dumped to rid warehouse floors, it is stated. Dealers generally are writing off their losses.

The local consumption is very small. A slight salvage has been made by some dealers by selling for seed. Yesterday a carload went from one floor at 25 cents a sack, to be planted.

High freight rates are blamed as one of the causes of the general onion loss. It now costs more than twice the returns to be had to lay California onions down in eastern markets. The warm eastern winter also has operated to decrease demand.

Weakening in the banana market here has caused a decline in prices averaging a cent in the last few days. It is believed that there will be still further recession. There are plenty of good bananas to be had. Most of the Oakland offerings are southern fruit, little dealing in Hawaiians having gone on here.

Heavy recipts of peas of much better quality than have been delivered here for some time have operated sharply to reduce the prices here. Today there were plenty of good peas to be had at 9 cents whereas they had been quoted up to 13 cents at the beginning of the week.

Asparagus receipts jumped to more than 600 boxes today, much of the supply of high quality. The market, however, absorbed the additional supply without difficulty and a top price of 9 cents was maintained by most houses. Receipts for some time have been running below the 500 mark. The Oakland market normally is rated to consume more than 750 boxes.

Saturday strawberry trading was brisk at somewhat advanced prices. Choice berries today brought $1.10 a drawer. The range on others was 75 cents to $1. It was anticipated, however, that next week again would see declines. Week-end prices on berries have ruled stronger for several weeks.

BERKELEY BANK CLEARINGS GAIN MILLION IN WEEK

Building Activity Continues, Says Summary; Money Rate Helps.

Because of an increase in bank clearings of more than $1,000,000 for the week ending Thursday, May 5, over the previous week, together with a continuation of building activities and a healthy retail trade, the Business Summary of the First National Bank of Berkeley is quite optimistic over the outlook for the summer months. The bank clearings for the week totalled $4,528,928, which was $1,050,605 greater than the previous week and $840,571, or 31 per cent higher than the corresponding week of 1920.

Building permits for the week aggregated $72,930, which is a few thousand less than the previous week. The permits were divided as follows: New building, 64,730; miscellaneous, $8200. Among the principal items of the week was a permit for a two-story, sixteen-room apartment house to be erected on Prince street at a cost of $16,680.

Berkeley's building activities are keeping pace with other progressive sections of the country. From all sides come reports of increase in the building of homes. While this is having a stimulating effect upon the lumber market it has not resulted in advances in most grades. Information received by the summary indicates that, while lumber production on the whole, is slightly less than orders, the result has been to lessen the volume of unsold lumber which had piled up during building stagnation. Therefore, it is not believed that there will be any material price advances unless building activities make unexpected increases.

A slight easing in the money market has helped to improve the building situation and has produced a somewhat larger volume of retail trade. This evidence of the approach of normal conditions, the Summary believes, is a forerunner of a still greater improvement of business in the not distant future.

News of the Waterfront

A northwest wind and a cloudy sky brought several vessels here from the northern ports, all making good time, but those arriving from southern ports had heavy weather and were several hours late. Seven steam schooners brought in 5,000,000 feet of lumber. Among them was the steamer C. A. Smith, from Coos Bay, which, it is reported, will tie up when her cargo is out and remain in port until the engineers settle their difficulty with the shipowners. Other steamers will follow suit and tie up for a while.

Walter Scammell, owner of the white flyer Humboldt, running between this port and Los Angeles, tied his craft up for a day, as it was understood that the Yale, on the same run, was to do likewise, but when the Yale did not then Scammell ordered the Humboldt out again with the old crew.

The new freighter, Manukai, launched on February 20 with the steamer Manulani, at the Moore shipyard, Oakland, will be completed within a week. The Manulani, her sister ship, arrived at Honolulu today from this port, making a very fast voyage. She left here on April 30 and averaged 300 miles a day. These two crafts are the largest ever built in this port and are owned by the Matson Navigation Company. They are 14,000 tons register and will be used to carry sugar and other Hawaiian products between that port and the Atlantic coast, calling here each voyage.

The schooner Forest Home is loaded with a cargo of lumber at Aberdeen, Gray's Harbor, ready to sail for Peru, but is held up on account of the sailors refusing to sign unless they receive $90 a month wages. The skipper, Captain Piltz, has offered them $72.50, but they refuse to accept, so a crew will be sent from this port to man the vessel. She has 950,000 feet of lumber on board for the southern port and will return with nitrate.

The Mexican gunboat Yaqui, which left here some days ago for the Mexican port in tow of the Red Stack tug Sea Lion, has been reported by wireless as being 1370 miles south of the Golden Gate and is proceeding on her journey. She was reported in distress on Thursday and was then 400 miles south of San Diego.

The power yacht Katheda, picked up off Eureka Wednesday with engine troubles and towed to Eureka by a fishing craft, has been repaired and sailed from there today for this harbor. The Katheda is a pleasure yacht and en route here from Puget Sound.

Carl Waack has purchased the gasoline scow Ellen Gunderson from John Swanson. The Ellen Gunderson is about the oldest bay scow now in service in this harbor. She was built at San Francisco 53 years ago and is 42 tons register. She has been doing bay and river freighting under sail power, but now has a gas engine installed.

The American ship Monongahela has again made a start for this port. She sailed from Manila on December 4, but ran short of provisions and returned to Manila on March 13. She remained there until April 23 and made another start. She is under command of Captain Swain and carries 25 cadets from this port. The Monongahela was formerly a German ship and was seized during the war. She was known as the Dalbek. She has a cargo of copra and hardwood lumber. Several of these cadets shipped on the vessel when she was loading her cargo at Oakland harbor and they live here with their parents. The ship should arrive here about July 1.

Change of masters registered at the United States customs house: Captain B. H. Greenwood, steamer West Hepburn; Captain C. E. Larson, steamer Cellio; Captain J. A. Peterson, steamer Petaluma; Captain Carl Waak, gas scow Ellen Gunderson; Captain Joseph P. Henry, gas launch Frank & Lena.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

STOCK MARKET IRREGULAR ON PROFIT TAKING

Few Elements of Strength Are Shown; Closing Is Heavy.

NEW YORK May 7.—Further profit-taking and renewal of pressure against the more speculative shares made for extremely irregular conditions in today's stock market. Issues of recent strength such as steels, oils, motors and related shares were uncertain or heavy. Some of the rails, particularly coalers, showed firmness, but trading in that quarter was contracted. The few elements of strength comprised motor coppers and other metal stocks, United States Realty and California Petroleum. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 375,000 shares.

The market opened with a continuance of the profit-taking movement which characterized yesterday's later dealings. Some of the prominent oils, motors, steels and coppers forfeited large fractions to almost 2 points in the first few minutes of the active dealings. The few gains were restricted to specialties, notably sugars and tobaccos and some of the minor transportations. Further activity was reported in the foreign exchange market, with substantial additions to the recent advance in French and Italian remittances.

TRADERS ADVISE USE OF EDGE ACT

CLEVELAND, O., May 7.—Immediate creation of financial institutions under the Edge law, whose machinery will facilitate extension of long-term credits to promote free exchange of exports and imports, was urged today at the final session of the National Foreign Trade Convention here. It was declared the reduction of loans and accumulation of banking reserves justify the extension of credits sufficient to accelerate business in lines which have suffered partial or complete stagnation.

Danger of a financial panic has disappeared, it was said, and as liquidation progresses and reconstruction in Europe proceeds, normal conditions will be restored. Commercial and financial interests, meanwhile, are advised to refrain from hasty and ill-advised expansion.

A number of manufactured articles, it was declared, remain too high in cost of production to compete in neutral markets, while agricultural products have been reduced to prewar levels. However, no readjustment can be complete without reduction of costs of railroad transportation both for domestic and export shipment.

The following American maritime policy was outlined:

1. Retention of government-owned ships until such time as they can be sold advantageously.

2. Ships which cannot be chartered on a bare boat basis or time charter should be laid up pending revival of world commerce.

3. Maintenance of lines not justified by freight offered should be discontinued.

4. Shipping laws requiring larger crews on American vessels should be repealed.

5. American shippers should give preference to American vessels.

6. Combined passenger and freight service between the United States and its possessions and foreign ports should be maintained.

Morgan Financier Visits Bay Region

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Henry P. Davidson, firm member of J. P. Morgan and Company, accompanied by Martin Egan, a staff member of the same company are here today to await the sailing of a vessel for Honolulu and Manila where they propose to spend a vacation. In the event the strike of ship crews holds up the sailing more than a week, they may not make the trans-Pacific trip, Egan said. Davidson is making the trip on account of his health, Egan announced. Davidson's family accompanied him here.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 7.—The cotton market was steady at the opening today with first prices 1 to 3 points higher. Later there were advances which carried July about 8 points above the previous close. Spot houses sold near months and bought later deliveries. Wall street was a buyer while southern wire concerns sold. Some trade price fixing in July was reported. Later the selling from the south increased and prices reacted to about yesterday's close.

The cotton market was easier later in the morning but was finally steady at a net decline of 4 to 10 points.

LEATHER BUSINESS BETTER.
